

NEW PRINCIPLE IN RADIO RECEPTION REPORTED FOUND

Charles E. Bacon, Indianapolis Architect, Said to Have Sold Invention for Huge Amount.

HE SAYS MERELY HE "HAS SOMETHING"

Refuses to Give Details or Discuss Rumors — No Patents Issued Yet, He Tells Questioner.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch, Ind., Dec. 30.—Development of a new principle of radio reception, thought to be either a tubular set or a radical modification of the tube system, by Charles E. Bacon, an Indianapolis architect, recently attracted the attention of radio engineers with the result that seemingly authentic reports are in circulation in Indianapolis that Bacon has disposed of his rights in the discovery for a large amount of money. Among business men here the report is that Bacon has signed contracts with tube manufacturers by which he will receive $17,000,000 for his discovery.

Bacon, who has been moderately successful as an architect, refused today to discuss his invention further than to admit that he "had something," that he would not market it himself, and that negotiations had been concluded "for taking care of that end of it."

According to the reports, an Indianapolis business man, Bacon, became interested in radio through the enthusiasm of one of his two sons, and began experimenting at a work bench in his garage.

Reported Demonstration. About two months ago Bacon visited Washington and it is said demonstrated his new radio set before engineers of tube manufacturers. Reports which are attributed to several of his friends are that his supposedly tubular set picked up all stations received by expensive tube sets.

In the absence of verification by Bacon the reports in circulation must be taken with a considerable degree of caution, but in Indianapolis credence generally is given to a report that the tube manufacturers were so impressed that arrangements were made immediately to get contracts with him.

Two theories are advanced for the sale of the discovery. The one is that Bacon is anxious to pay a large amount for the rights to the discovery. One is that they desire to prevent it from getting into the market because of a fear that it would wreck the tube business. The other is that it is to be manufactured and that by reducing the cost of radio sets materially, it will stimulate the radio business.

In connection with the reports of the sale of the discovery, the Radio Corporation of America has been mentioned as the most likely purchaser.

Investor Holds His Peace. Bacon, when seen in his modest office in the Odd Fellows' building here, was loath even to reply to a question.

"The situation at present makes it inadvisable for me to discuss the matter at all," he said. "I do not want to say anything about it. I have been pestered for weeks by reporters and others, particularly by people who want to invest my supposed millions for me. I have an average of more than 40 callers a day about this matter. I have refused to discuss it with any of them."

After considerable questioning, Bacon finally said: "No patents have been issued so far and so none of these people can find out anything in Washington. But they do not hesitate to talk about it here in Indianapolis."

"I understand some persons have even said that they had seen drafts for sums payable to me. So far, I consider this my personal business and I am not ready to talk about it."

He refused to talk of negotiations with radio equipment manufacturers or of the principle of his discovery, but did say that he would not form a manufacturing company. "That end of it has been taken care of," he said.

KIDNAPED SCHOOLGIRL RESCUED BY POLICE

Kansas City Child Chained to Bed and Beaten—Man, 53, Under Arrest.

By the Associated Press. KANSAS CITY, Mo., Dec. 30.—Chained since yesterday to a bed in a hole under a garage, without water or food, Dorothy Van Camp, 14-year-old school girl, this afternoon was released by patrolmen.

Russell Arnold, 53, is under arrest, charged by the girl with having dragged her into his home, beaten her and attempted to attack her.

When rescued, the girl was suffering from exposure and was badly bruised. She is a daughter of Mrs. C. E. Gasoway and said she was forced into the house by Arnold yesterday morning on her way to school.

When the girl failed to come home last night her mother notified police. Officers were told by neighbors that Arnold, described as a scientific, had attempted to talk with other girls. He was taken to a police station for questioning, and was under arrest when investigators heard the girl's cries in the basement, discovered a hidden door and rescued her.

Police say Arnold admitted the girl's charges.

SHAD BENNETT TO CHARGE FALSIFY ARRESTS IN SUITS

Files Notice of $100,000 Action Against East Side Officers Who Took Him Into Custody. R. Shad Bennett, St. Louis attorney, who was arrested by St. Clair County Deputies outside the East St. Louis Federal Building last Tuesday on a charge of attempted murder, filed notice of a $100,000 suit for damages in Federal Court at East St. Louis today against Sheriff Charles Ahrens of St. Clair County, Sheriff W. M. Flannigan of Jackson County and four deputies, charged with the arrest.

Bennett, who went to Federal Court Tuesday on legal business, says in his notice of suit that in his capacity as an attorney he was an officer of the court and immune from arrest. He was taken to Ballville and then to Murphysboro, where he was released. Bennett states that he advised the officers of his status at the time the arrest was made, but they failed to heed his warning.

The charge on which Bennett was indicted in Jackson County, Ill., last July, is based on the assertion that he employed a St. Louis man to kill King, bank-rust West Frankfort, Mo., dealer, on whose life Bennett held life insurance policies for $20,000 to secure a loan of $12,000. Bennett denied the charge, and Gov. Emmerson refused to issue a writ of habeas corpus for Bennett's release from Missouri on the ground that it was not shown that he was in Illinois at the time the alleged crime was committed.

Justice of Peace, Six Others Found Guilty in McKeesport, Pa. Exposure.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 30.—Two former police chiefs, a Justice of the Peace and six other persons were convicted today in Federal Court of charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws. The Government charged they were involved in the operations of a liquor ring in McKeesport, near here.

Former Chief of Police John P. Brennan of McKeesport, former Chief of Police Charles L. Bergstedt of Versailles and Justice of the Peace Charles W. Reinhard of Versailles Township were among those convicted.

Four of the 11 defendants in the case were acquitted and the jury was unable to agree in the case of the others.

CONGRESSMAN, FOUR OTHERS ARE KILLED IN ARMY PLANE CRASH

They were placed under arrest, but were released later.

A special board appointed to investigate the accident was composed of Maj. Robert Hale, Bolling Field surgeon; Capt. Ernest C. Clark, and Lieut. R. A. Hicks, Davidson's statement.

This statement was issued on behalf of the War Department by Mr. Davidson.

"A board of officers has been appointed by Maj. Howard C. Davidson, commanding officer of Bolling Field, to look into the causes of the disaster. At this time there is no definite knowledge as to how it occurred."

"We do know, however, that every possible safety precaution was taken before the plane left the ground. I have evidence that proper inspection was made of the engine, all three of which were tested and warmed up for about 30 minutes before the flight started. So far as the plane itself is concerned I am equally satisfied that the controls were properly inspected, also the Transport only recently came back from the factory where it received a thorough overhauling."

"Lieut. L. M. Merrick, operations officer at Bolling Field, saw to it that the plane was properly loaded. Behind them rode a detachment of scarlet-uniformed horseguards on their way to the changing of the guard at Whitehall."

At the ceremony the Prince wore the full dress uniform of a Colonel of the Welsh guards while the Russians were in diplomatic uniform. As the diplomats were presented the Prince shook hands with each and received from Sokolnikoff his letters of credence. Ten minutes later the Russians returned to their carriages and drove to the hotel where they are staying temporarily.

PRINCE OF WALES RECEIVES SOVIET'S NEW AMBASSADOR

British King Does Not Meet Him When He Presents His Credentials.

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Dec. 30.—Resumption of diplomatic relations between Great Britain and Soviet Russia neared completion today as the new Soviet Ambassador presented his official credentials to the Prince of Wales.

The new British Ambassador to Soviet Russia was to present his credentials simultaneously and an exchange of notes dealing with the question of propaganda was to follow immediately, this being one of the conditions of the resumption of relations.

King George did not receive the new Ambassador, but the Prince of Wales greeted him in the audience chamber of St. James' Palace. K. Sokolnikoff, who now becomes the first Ambassador of the Soviet regime to Great Britain, accompanied by his staff, drove to the palace in two state carriages with the Royal Navy with scarlet-cloaked coachmen and outriders.

Behind them rode a detachment of scarlet-uniformed horseguards on their way to the changing of the guard at Whitehall.

G. A. BUDER'S FIRM GOT $95,000 FEES ON FRANZ ESTATE

Testimony Is Given in Hearing of Plea to Oust Him and Gustav A. Franz as Trustees.

Testimony that the law firm of Buder & Buder, consisting of Gustav A. Buder and Oscar E. Buder, received about $95,000 in fees during 1933, 1935 and 1937 from the estate of Ehrhardt D. Franz for services in connection with the reorganization and liquidation of the "Burroughs" Longworth, Tulsa, Okla. floor leader; Snell, chairman of the Rules Committee, and Hawley, chairman of Ways and Means—were told today in a hearing accepted a sliding scale of fees and got nothing at all; and that it would be impossible to get the $40 rate through the Republican caucus.

"Bombshell In Our Camp." "They had no definite sliding scale, nor had any one attempted to write an sliding scale into a law. Coming at the eleventh hour, you can imagine that this threw a bombshell into our camp. Our answer to this was a farm bloc caucus the day preceding the regular Republican caucus. Seventeen beet sugar states were represented by about 30 Congressmen, who voted unanimously by the 2-40 rate and opposed the opening of the sugar schedule on the floor of the House for amendment. This made the administration leaders set up and take notice, and you have been advised by the result."

The 2-40 rate was the rate proposed for Cuban sugar. This meant a world rate of 2 cents a pound on sugar.

Patriotic said he had discussed the sliding scale with Chairman Snoot of the Senate Finance Committee.

"Did you discuss it with President Hoover?" Walsh asked.

"I called on Mr. Hoover in an informal way and he asked me what I thought of it. I told him I thought it was surrounded with a good deal of hazard."

Bottlers Spent $100,000 a Year. Owens testified that the American Bottlers spent about $100,000 a year. He stated that the association expected to spend about $25,000 in its fight against any increase in the sugar tariff. The members of his association, he said, used about 200,000 tons of sugar a year and that the increase adopted by the House would cost them $2,000,000 annually.

Owens said his salary was $12,800 a year. He testified that he paid David J. Lewis, formerly a per cent stock dividend had been declared during his time. Petrin refused to identify a letter offered by Walsh to the effect that the domestic sugar producers had had a hard fight against heavy odds in their efforts for a higher tariff.

This letter from Harry Austin, secretary of the United States Beet Sugar Association, to Col. T. G. Gallagher, general manager of the Continental Sugar Co. of Toledo, said in part: "Two days before the Republican caucus, Owens and I were called to Speaker Longworth's room, where we met the 'four horsemen', Longworth, Tamm, floor leader; Snell, chairman of the Rules Committee, and Hawley, chairman of Ways and Means—were told today in a hearing accepted a sliding scale of fees and got nothing at all; and that it would be impossible to get the $40 rate through the Republican caucus."

The members of his association, he said, used about 200,000 tons of sugar a year and that the increase adopted by the House would cost them $2,000,000 annually.

Owens said his salary was $12,800 a year. He testified that he paid David J. Lewis, formerly a member of the Federal Tariff Commission, $350 a month for help in the low tariff fight, and that he paid a New York press agency $1100 a year for publicity.

One of the letters from the bottlers' files, spoke of a conference at the Washington Racquet Club. "Does the letter say 'Racquet Club' or the 'Racquet Club'?" asked Caraway.

Robinson of Indiana produced a contract between the publicity agency and Pike & Co., 31 Wall street, sugar brokers, for an additional payment of $1000 a month.

Owens identified Pike & Co. as the company that supplied sugar to the Hershey Chocolate Co., and the Coca-Cola Co.

Cost Letters to Senators. He said he learned about the public papers only a few days ago. "Do you have the bottles of Coca-Cola write letters to Senators and Representatives about a low tariff on sugar?" asked Caraway.

When Owens said yes, Caraway observed, "that explains some of the letters I have been getting."

Owens said that when he received a cablegram from Lakin and Shattuck at Havana, urging him to bring pressure on Congressmen Watson, Estep and Bacharach, he sent night letters to bottles in their districts, urging them to get in touch with the Congressman named.

"Then you did bring pressure on them?" commented Robinson. "Oh, yes," laughed Owens.

Owens identified his own letter to Pike & Co., urging them to persuade Congressmen, Rep. Frank (Rep.), New York, to conduct a fight on the floor of the House for a low sugar duty.

"If we could get her to conduct the fight on the floor to stop the pliffing of the sugar bowl, it would be six for her and six for us," Owens wrote.

Owens was questioned after an hour's examination. Chairman Caraway announced that he would be recalled when the committee reconvened after the holidays.

No Action Regarding Crowder. Caraway said today he did not intend to ask the War Department to investigate reports that Major-General Snoot Crowder, retired, had communicated plans of the Army General Staff to H. C. Lakin, president of the Cuba Co.

Several weeks ago Caraway announced he planned to summon Crowder before the lobby committee for questioning regarding his sugar activities.

"All we want to do is to develop the facts," Caraway said. "Anyone else can take any action deemed advisable."

A letter by Lakin to M. C. Rioda of New York, read Wednesday before the committee, said Crowder had learned "that the General Staff provides a case of war any attempt to a traffic lane open between Philippines and the United States would be promptly abandoned."

Crowder formerly was Ambassador to Cuba and had been advocating a low sugar duty pending tariff bill.

Army heads plan to discuss testimony before the Senate Committee that general staff war were given to Cuban sugar sets by Crowder.

Whether Crowder's reported disclosure will be the subject of formal investigation and determination in conference, was indicated at the department that some study of the case would be made.

Secretary Hurley will take matter up with Gen. Sumner, chief of staff.

20 PERSONS SNOWBOUND WEDNESDAY IN SCHOOL

Twenty persons, including women, have been marooned in snowdrifts since Wednesday morning in the schoolhouse at Fairview, Ill., six miles west of O'Fallon. A snowplow, within half a mile of the school and there was hope that snow had drifted from the seven feet deep.

Those who sought shelter in school, which is on State Highway No. 12, were motorists and passengers of two buses which were blocked by snowdrifts. A number succeeded in walking to O'Fallon yesterday, where nearly exhausted by the cold, they were taken to a nearby gasoline station and a nearby gas station.

O K'S PRISON REFORM

House Judiciary Committee, WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—House Judiciary Committee approved proposed legislation carry out the Justice Department program for expansion and reorganization of the Federal Penitentiary System.

The program calls for an expansion of approximately $7,000,000 over a period of five years. Construction of a penitentiary in the southern states for long term prison and an industrial reformatory of the Mississippi River was provided in the bill but was proved. The committee reported the Graham bill to administration of the Federal penitentiaries, to authorize the Attorney General to contract for care of prisoners and to establish jails.

The Weather Bureau predicted a minimum temperature of 10 degrees below zero tonight, with fair weather lasting until tomorrow night or Sunday. The high wind accompanying the blizzard, which caused the snow to drift badly, was down yesterday. The cold wave extended now over the middle and south Atlantic States. The coldest place in the country today was Williston, N. D., with 30 below. Freezing temperatures were reported in northern Florida, along the Gulf coast, with the mercury at 38 in Tampa, Fla.

Most Trains Late. Most trains from all directions reached St. Louis at least an hour today, and some of them were four or five hours behind time. Snow drifts, difficulties due to the cold, heavy holiday travel and baggage were largely responsible for the delays, but there was no disruption in the local terminal, which recently has enlarged track facilities at Union Station. Some trains have been delayed in departure here for an hour or two while awaiting connections.

About one-third of the city car lines are averaging about 10 minutes loss on schedules because of slippery streets and heavy car travel, the Public Service Co. reported. Other lines are running about on time. A broken wire on the Kirkwood-Ferguson line in Clayton caused a 30-minute tieup in the forenoon. Local buses maintained schedules with the aid of continuous use of gravel and salt on icy pavements.

County Roads Opened. The following St. Louis County roads have been restored to service by at least partial removal of drifts, some of which were seven feet deep: Clayton road, between Denby and Ballas roads; Lockland, Bellefontaine, Olive Street and Hall's Ferry roads. Work of clearing the snow from other county roads, which may be finished in a day or two, continued; but the following were closed today: Clayton road west of Ballas road; Ladue road west of Price road; Chambers road between Ferguson and Hall's Ferry road; Marion avenue in Overland and Hume avenue in St. John's station.

Virtually all Missouri State highways were open for traffic today, but No. 34, between St. Charles and West Union, will not be free of drifts till tonight. The Illinois highways may not be cleared for several days.

Many Street Cars Behind Schedule

Local Buses Running on Time, However, — Snowfall Here Reached Total of 5.7 Inches.

Traffic conditions in St. Louis and vicinity, except for the railroads, were returning to normal today, following the blizzard which began at Tuesday midnight, and ended shortly after noon yesterday. While the temperature fell to degrees above zero at 7 a. m., the sky has been clear since yesterday afternoon. Continued fair cold weather is forecast, with slightly higher temperatures.

Many roads and local streets which were blocked by snowdrifts yesterday were open today, though some remained closed and travel to distant points on Illinois roads is impossible. Some interurban bus lines were able to operate, but all trains reached St. Louis late and the railroads were having serious difficulties. Automobiles moved with comparative freedom in the city and suburbs, since ice and packed snow gave been worn away in places.

A great extent. Street cars encountered some delays. The community's milk supply, curtailed by the highway blockades, is expected to be back to normal by tomorrow. Long-distance telephone service likewise should be free of interference by night.

MEXICAN RAIL STRIKE ENDS
British-Owned Road Required to Grant Employees' Demands.
MEXICO CITY, Dec. 29.—A strike on the Mexican Railway, which had lasted 10 days, ended yesterday when train service was resumed between Mexico City and Vera Cruz. The strikers won their points.
President Portes Gil, as arbitrator, gave a verdict obliging the road, which is British-owned, to sign a collective labor contract as demanded by the employees. He also held that the strikers should be paid for the time they were idle.

5,000 School Children Symphony Amid

snowballing Weather and a Indian Divert Atten
Youngsters at Ar

babbling, stamping army of school children, who had raced in out of the cold, took possession of The Arena yesterday afternoon. It was the Christmas Eve concert given by the Symphony Orchestra and the National Exhibition Co. for St. Louis public school pupils.
The weather man tripped up on a perfect affair on a milder day. After an afternoon of Wagner, Mahler, Beethoven, he served up an all-bob-sledding, snowballing, water carnival afternoon.
The children jumped up and down, beat their hands together, hopped up and down the sloping sides and across the best-studied park to get that silent repose best gained in the office of Ben Franklin, president of The Arena company.
Conductor Frederick Flischer used his baton, at 2:45 o'clock, to open the concert with the famous music that introduced Act I of "Lohengrin." There were sensitive vibrations in the hall, whole rows of boys and girls had not got warm, and stirred restlessly, rubbing hands together, tapping their feet, climbing from one seat to another. Wagner from time to time was drowned in that other sound—perhaps no less music—the shrill of children's voices.
The musicians felt the cold, too. Flinders blew on their fingers between numbers. The symphony conductor, wearing a big tam o'shanter, sat at her instrument in a fur coat. Blowers sent blasts of hot air into the huge auditorium and the temperature rose, minute by minute. But the boys and girls still suffered from those bob-sledding rhythms loosed by the weather-man. The delicate counterpoint of Massenet, the hushed melody of Beethoven came off second best, giving with them rhythms.
Red-checked lads, betrayed by the thermometer into frisky deportment, improvised paper gliders out of the programs, and hurled them, by the thousands, into the air. There were innumerable battles between rows of mirthful youngsters who fought with caps, paper balls, newspapers, coats.
When the crowd of 16,000 had reached a state approaching quietude, at 7 o'clock, and when E. Fernandez Arbos ascended to the rostrum to conduct the Angelus of Massenet, decorum was suddenly one under by the appearance of a six-foot, 300-pound Indian, in all regalia, in the upper balcony. Instantaneously, a hundred or more little boys left their seats and urged about the glamorous figure. Boy Scout ushers sought to push the excited youngsters back to their seats. Conductor Arbos may have wondered what the ticket was up in the balcony. His neck was turned and he did not see the Indian.
Indian Scatters Ads.
The big Indian strode around the upper aisle of The Arena, trailing a noisy brigade of admirers. As conductor Arbos, balanced on his toes, strove to bring out pastel shades in the music, the oblivious Indian, from time to time, took a hundred or more advertising dodgers in his hand and sent them sailing above the sloping tiers of seats. Ushers pleaded with him but he paid no attention.
The Indian finally retired, hundreds of little boys were able to shake their seats again, and Arbos could conduct, in comparative quiet, Massenet's "Fete Boheme."
Group Singing.
Each orchestral number was followed by group singing. The boys and girls who essayed Beethoven's "Hour of Rest" chorus were still too full of shivers to

YOUTH CHARGED WITH MURDER OF GIRL IN VIRGINIA

Formally Accused After He Supplies Information Leading to Finding of Body.

By the Associated Press.

ROANOKE, Va., Dec. 10.—R. T. Hubbard, Commonwealth's attorney, last night lodged a formal charge of murder against Purn Harman, as a result of the death of Freeda Bolt, White High School senior, last week. The youth's indictment will be sought at a special session of the Roanoke County grand jury, Jan. 8, he said.

TWO FIRES CAUSE
$350,000 DAMAGE ON THE EAST SIDE

Two Buildings of Swift &
Co. and Coudy Bros.
Lumber Yard, Granite City, Are Destroyed.

Damage estimated at $350,000
resulted from fires on the East Side last night, at the National Stockyards and in Granite City.
The fires were visible across the river in St. Louis. With the temperature a few degrees above zero fire fighters were greatly handicapped.

Two buildings of the Swift & Co.
packing plant at the National Stockyards, National City, adjoining East St. Louis on the north,
were destroyed, and a third structure was damaged, the total loss being estimated at $200,000, covered by insurance. The main buildings escaped the flames.

Coudy Bros. Lumber Co. planing mill and yard in Granite City were destroyed, with a loss estimated at $150,000, fully insured. Additional loss, unestimated, resulted from another fire which broke out in Granite City at the same time.

Cause of Fire Undetermined.
Cause of the fire at the Swift plant was not determined. It was discovered in the tool room of the machine shop by an electrician, who turned in an alarm. He reported the fire "suddenly flashed up all around." It burned fiercely from 5:45 to 8:30 and was extinguished at 9.

Today the ruins were too coated.
National City's own fire department was augmented by three fire companies from East St. Louis.
Firemen were hindered by freezing of water but there was no shortage of water.

Tanks of oil required in the repair shops added to the flames.

Only Walls of Shop Left Standing.
Only four walls remained after the fire had been extinguished in the machine shop, a two-story brick and frame building which included automobile and wagon repair shops and metal-working machinery. The interior of the adjoining wood mill, a two-story frame structure, housing wood working machinery, lathes, planers and drills, also was destroyed.

Damage, confined to the roof,
was done at a third building, a steel and frame structure where refrigerator cars are built and repaired. Only one car was there, and it was only slightly damaged.

Thomas L. Pratt, superintendent for Swift & Co., estimated the damage at $200,000. He pointed out that the larger buildings,
where cattle and meat products are handled, were not reached by the fire, and said operations would not be curtailed and no employees would be laid off. Reconstruction of the fire-damaged buildings will be started immediately, Pratt said.

Thousands Watch Lumber Fire.
Thousands of spectators, estimated for the fire at the Coudy Bros.
Lumber Co., the largest plant of its kind in Granite City, occupying a block at Twentieth and Adams streets, not far from the business district. Among the spectators were residents who feared the flames would spread to homes near the lumber yard.

Discovered at 7 o'clock, the fire burned all night. Starting in the furnace room of the office building, it spread quickly to the large lumber shed, planing mill, paint shop, garage and open stacks of lumber. All were destroyed. There were intermittent explosions in the paint shop, and from gasoline tanks of several automobiles burned in the garage. About 2, 000,000 feet of lumber was consumed, according to A. H. Beth, vice president. The same firm suffered a fire loss of $40,000 in 1937.

Co-operation from adjacent communities helped to save Granite City's business district from a serious fire. While the Granite City and Madison fire departments fought the lumber yard blaze, the Berkeley department moved over to Madison and the Nemo, department took over a Granite City station. Then the fire broke out in an old frame hotel building at 1940
Delmar avenue, in the heart of Granite City's business district. The building was destroyed, but the Nemo firemen saved adjoining business structures.

Seven hundred pupils of the Emerson School in Granite City received an extra holiday today because the school's electric power line, furnishing heat, was destroyed by the lumber yard fire. The school event had closed this afternoon for the holidays.

SUIT FOR $10,000 REWARD
Officers Chain Money for Capture of William F. Hickman.

By the Associated Press.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 16. — The district attorney, the $10,000 reward case offered by the city of Los Angeles for the capture of William Edward Hickman, slayer of 12-year-old Marion Parker, was brought into the courts yesterday with the filing of a writ for $10,000 against the city by T. B. Gurdane, and C. L. Lissallen, Oregon police officers.

The officers who captured Hickman near Pendleton, Ore., in the fall of 1937 said they filed a claim for the reward in February, 1938, but that the city apparently has taken no continuance of their suit.
Hickman was hanged for the crime.

R. B. WHITESIDE RETIRED BAPTIST MINISTER, DIES

Ex-Pastor of Euclid Church Expires After Complaining of Pain in Head—Trace of Sleeping Poison.

The Rev. Dr. Russell B. Whiteside, pastor of the Euclid Baptist Church, died last night at Mississippi Baptist Hospital, after being taken there from the Baltimore Apartments, 1600 Washington Boulevard, where he had been staying for three days. He was about 50 years old.

An autopsy disclosed traces of arsenic poisoning, the coroner's office stated today. It was found also that the minister suffered from chronic alcoholism. The coroner's inquest was held open to await a chemical analysis of the stomach. Dr. Whiteside was contacted by a physician yesterday, after complaining of a severe pain in the head. Arsenic is a sleep-inducing poison.

His wife, Mrs. Whiteside, was taken from the apartment of Euclid church, which he had served for 10 years. Under his pastorate, the congregation numbered more than 100 members. He was a member of the Euclid Baptist Church, and had been a member of the Baltimore Apartments, 1600 Washington Boulevard, where he had been staying for three days. He was about 50 years old.

Dr. Whiteside, at the time of his death, was in the habit of drinking this time to Mrs. Whiteside, who was then convinced after a medical operation. They came to the minister's home at Baltimore, Md., and he remained from that place on the arrival at the Baltimore Apartments.

Recently it is understood at Euclid church, Dr. and Mrs. Whiteside had lived at Baltimore, Md., and he remained from that place on the arrival at the Baltimore Apartments.

ESTHER CASE, RADIO SINGER, ONCE OPERA STAR, ENDS LIFE

Tragedy Is Attributed to Despondency Due to Loss of $250,000 Stash of Precious Gems.

NEW YORK, Dec. 29. — Esther Case, 40 years old, formerly European opera singer and more recently a radio singer, committed suicide last night by inhaling gas in her apartment. She had failed in an attempt to sever an artery in her wrist with a safety razor blade. Her suicide is believed to have been prompted by loss of her recent breach of promise suit in which she sought $250,000 from Capt. Reginald Sheridan Carroll, British war ace.

On a dresser was a note under which were piled letters, jewelry, handkerchiefs, an atomizer and other trinkets. The note read: "Kindly return these things to Capt. Carroll at Baldwin, L. I." At one time she was prima donna at the Royal Opera House in Stockholm.

BANKS BID 2.5 PCT. FOR USE OF CITY FUNDS

Rate for 1930 Same as at Present Except in Two Instances.

Allocation of deposits of city funds for 1930 to the banks from which bids were received yesterday will be made soon by Mayor Miller, Comptroller Nolte and City Treasurer Buehner. Nolte told the bankers he was disappointed because they did not offer a higher rate of interest on the $30,000,000 the city expects to have.

All the bidders offered 2 1/2 per cent interest except two banks which offered fractionally higher rates. This interest on daily balances is the same as the city received this year. Nolte points out, however, that the money market is higher now and that the city is no longer a borrower from the banks. It borrowed $6,000,000 last year to take care of temporary needs. The 1929 deposit limit will be $2,000,000 to a bank.

The Telegraphers National Bank offered 2.6 per cent interest on $1,000,000 and the Security National Bank, Bankers & Trust Co. 2.7 per cent on $500,000. The offer of 2 1/2 per cent was made by the following: Franklin-American Trust Co. on $5,000,000; First National Bank, Mississippi Valley Merchants State Trust Co. and Mercantile-Commerce Bank & Trust Co. on $3,000,000 each; Postmen's National Bank, Lafayette-South Side Bank and National City Bank, on $2,000,000 each; Northwestern Trust Co. and United States Bank, on $1,000,000 each, and Bremen Bank, Tower Grove Bank and South Side National Bank, on $500,000 each.

COAST SURVEY BOAT LAUNCHED

The Hydrographer Powered by Oil and Electricity.

NORFOLK, Va., Dec. 20.—Described as the most completely equipped vessel of its kind ever built, the Hydrographer, coast and geodetic survey boat, was launched here yesterday. Miss Cecil Lester Jones, Washington, daughter of the late E. L. Jones, former director of the coast and geodetic survey, christened the craft.

The Hydrographer, which will be completed and commissioned in May or June, will be the first Diesel-engine and electrically-pro-elled vessel in the geodetic survey. It will replace the old Hydrographer and Black, decommissioned some time ago. By means of an echo sounding apparatus, it will be able to learn in a second the depth of water under it and will be able to detect with submarine radio apparatus submerged shoals and wrecks many miles from its position.

OLD-TIME CHRISTMAS PARTY AT WHITE HOUSE

Officials' Children Invited —
Two Evergreen Trees Are Ordered.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—The President and Mrs. Hoover are preparing for an old-fashioned Christmas. Christmas trees were ordered for the east room and another for the President's apartment on the second floor.

President Hoover will get some travel and mystery books in his Christmas stocking. Mrs. Hoover, who purchases most of the President's reading matter, has ordered several books of the kind he likes best.

Before she became first lady Mrs. Hoover visited the book stores and selected books for her husband personally. Now she sends one of the White House secretaries with a list she has prepared.

Taken which take him over familiar trails or into new country along with stories of mystery and suspense are what the President prefers.

To compensate for the failure of Herbert Hoover Jr. to come with his young child to spend Christmas at the White House, Mr. and Mrs. Hoover have arranged for a party at which the youngsters of the men in their immediate official families will participate. Secretary and Mrs. Davis will bring their children for a special Christmas party, as will Assistant Secretary Davis of the War Department and the President's two private secretaries, George Akerson and Walter Newton.

The tree to be set in the east room will have the scene of Christ's birth arranged around underneath its branches, while the tree upstairs will be of the good old-fashioned type with much tinsel, electric lights and colorful bolls.

On Christmas eve the President and Mrs. Hoover will participate in an open air party in Sherman Square, where a huge community tree will be lighted. Later there will be Christmas carol singing on the north lawn of the White House where several hundred school children will sing "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing," "Silent Night," "Deck the Hills" and "Joy to the World."

RUSSIAN YOUTH IN BAGDAD SAYS HE IS THE CZAREVITCH

Posing as Sain Heir to Throne, He Says He Escaped from Siberian Prison.

By the Associated Press.
BAGDAD, Dec. 20.—A young Russian, arrested by the Iraq police on a charge of entering this country without a passport, has caused much excitement among Russians here by posing as the Czarevitch who was killed by Bolsheviks with the rest of the Russian Imperial family in 1918.

He said he had escaped from a Siberian prison.

Countrymen of the youth say his likeness to the last heir to the Russian throne is startling, but others say that he is obviously younger than the Czarevitch would be, if alive.

FUNERAL SERVICES HELD

FOR FREDERICK H. GORE
Body of Webster Groves Resident Who Died at Age of 74, to Be Cremated.

Funeral services for Frederick H. Gore, who, 74 years ago, moved to a farm which has become the heart of Webster Groves, were held today from his residence, 218 Parkhurst terrace, Webster Groves. The body will be cremated and the ashes interred at Oak Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Gore, who was 74 years old, died Wednesday at his home of a heart ailment. He was born in St. Louis and with his parents moved to the farm, an area now bounded by Lockwood, Elm, Swan and Gray avenues. Gore avenue, principal business street of the suburb was named for the family. For many years he traveled as a salesman for St. Louis coffee and tea concerns and for 18 years before his retirement he was connected with the Bemis Bros. Bag Co. He retired eight years ago.

THREE MEN SENT TO PRISON FOR WEBSTER GROVES THEFTS

Three men were sentenced to the penitentiary yesterday after they had pleaded guilty at Clayton of several recent robberies in Webster Groves.

James Newton, a machinist, Denver, Colo., received a four-year sentence for participation in robberies at the homes of E. W. E. Gore, 482 East Big Bend boulevard.

Jack and E. E. Bennett, 221 East Big Bend boulevard, Joe Pringle, auto mechanic, 4812A Delmar boulevard, got two years for his part in the Gore robbery and Gus O'Malley, a cabinetmaker, 4248 Delmar boulevard, received a two-year sentence for participation in the Bennett robbery.

Arrest of Newton followed confessions by Pringle and O'Malley when they were arrested in Webster Groves, Sunday, after they had wrecked their automobile and returned to take it away.

LIKELY INTO NS TO SPECULATORS

Expected to Look
Use of Federal Reserve Bank Funds.

Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—After than a year of discussion it appears that Congress after the Christmas recess is likely to make a study of the banking situation with particular reference to the use of Federal Reserve facilities in the speculative markets.

The Senate Banking Committee agreed to take up for consideration the King resolution proposing a widespread inquiry into credit conditions at its first meeting after the holidays. At that time it is expected preliminary hearings will be held with reference to the resolution which must be acted upon by the Senate before an inquiry can be undertaken. If hearings are ordered, Chairman Norbeck of the Banking Committee intends to call on officers of the Federal Reserve Board to give their views.

No particular remedial legislation is pending but Senator Glass of Virginia, a former Democratic Secretary of the Treasury, who was instrumental in the enactment of the Federal Reserve act, has been working on a banking bill.
The nature of this, however, has never been announced and Glass is not certain that he will present
it in January.
Meanwhile, financial circles were interested in the Norbeck resolution to enable State Bank members of the Federal Reserve System to establish branches in foreign countries and insular possessions of the United States. The opinion was expressed in several quarters that several of the larger State banks would avail themselves of such an opportunity the moment Congress enacted the necessary legislation. As a result of committee approval, the Norbeck measure is on the Senate legislative calendar. National banks now have authority to maintain such branches, but State banks do not unless they are nonmembers of the reserve system and their State laws permit it.

The Norbeck measure would apply to State banks with a capital of $1,000,000 or more. It was indorsed by the Federal Reserve Board. No official, however, would indicate what banks were availing passage of the law to take advantage of it.
Regarding the credit situation,
both Senators Glass and Fletcher of Florida, the ranking Democrat of the Banking Committee, have spoken favorably of a congressional study of the credit situation with a view to the preparation of any remedial legislation which might be necessary. The Virginia Senator has completed attorney consultations of the use of Federal Reserve facilities in the speculative markets.

LIFTING FOG RELEASES
77 SHIPS AT NEW YORK
Outgoing and Incoming Liners Had Been Held Up From 12 to 48 Hours.
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—A fleet of 77 ships, fog-bound from 12 to 48 hours, moved in and out of the New York harbor with safety today as a brisk west wind dispelled

the dense curtain of mist which has hung along the coast for days.
Fifty of the vessels were incoming, among them half a dozen trans-Atlantic liners, two days late,
which had been anchored for 48

hours outside the channel entrance, fearful to proceed to their place in the heavy fog that was responsible Wednesday for the ramming and sinking of the liner Fort Victoria.
The sunken liner, lying on its side across part of the channel, was another menace which delayed shipping.

Among the incoming vessels today was the crippled Clyde liner, Algonquin, which rammed the Fort Victoria.

TRAY OF DIAMONDS STOLEN

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Although many clerks were on duty and patrons were passing in and out, a show case was broken open shortly before 9 o'clock last night and a tray of diamonds valued at $28,000 was stolen from the second floor display room of Bennett Bro., wholesale and retail jeweler.
The diamonds were last seen in the showcase at 8 o'clock. A clerk two hours later discovered that the tray had disappeared.

Detectives learned that a knife or a small Jimmy had been used to pry open the door of the showcase. In order to do this the thief had to get behind the counter on which the case rested.

CHRISTMAS PARTIES AND CHURCH SERVICES

Many Organizations Give Entertainments for Poor Children.

With only five days remaining until Christmas, the season of entertainments, parties, celebrations, and various other special observances is well under way, to continue through Christmas.

Numerous organizations and groups have arranged entertainments for poor and underprivileged children. Special Christmas services, programs and pageants have been announced for Sunday and Christmas Eve by various Protestant churches, while Catholic churches will offer the usual series of masses Christmas day, and with few exceptions, will celebrate a special midnight mass Christmas Eve.

About 200 children from orphan homes will be entertained tomorrow at noon at the American Annex Hotel by the St. Louis Hotel Club, a lumberman's organization. Another children's party will be given tomorrow afternoon by the Shell Petroleum Corporation at Vandeventer avenue and Lindell boulevard, where Santa Claus will be on hand to distribute candy and balloons.

Richard Anderson Post, American Legion, will entertain 200 children Monday evening at 3737 West Pine boulevard.

Gifts for the Poor.
Committee of the St. Louis Public School Patrons' Alliance today distributed gifts of clothing and toys to poor children soliciting their work with luncheon at the Elks' Club.

The St. Louis Real Estate Exchange held its Christmas party Wednesday noon at Hotel Jefferson. The Scottish Rite Club held a party last night at the Scottish Rite Cathedral, collecting donations of gifts for poor children. The Young Women's Christian Association will hold its annual pageant and musical program tonight at its headquarters, 1411 Locust street.

To encourage observance of Christmas through more church services on Christmas day, the Church Federation will hold united services Christmas morning at 10:30 o'clock at Delmar Baptist Church, Skinker and Washington boulevards. The Rev. Dr. James E. Crowther of Grace Methodist Church will preach.

Dance for 15,000.
The Missouri Pacific Railroad will give a Christmas entertainment and dance at The Arena, 5700 Oakland avenue, for 15,000 employees and their friends, Monday evening. The entire auditorium will be decorated for the occasion and the program will include numbers by various musical clubs and groups among the employees.

St. Louis Cathedral and St. John's Church will not observe the usual midnight mass of Christmas eve, although most of the other Catholic churches, including the Old Cathedral, will offer this ceremony. At the Cathedral, Archbishop Glennon will celebrate solemn pontifical mass at 11 a. m.

Christmas eve midnight services will be held at Christ Church Cathedral and the Episcopal Church of the Ascension.

The Chamber of Commerce Sales Managers' Bureau held its annual Christmas luncheon at Hotel Jefferson today.

The student body of John Burroughs School will give a Christmas program including a playlet at the school at 8 p. m. today.

Several churches have announced Christmas pageants and musical programs for Sunday night. A pageant of the Nativity will be presented at Second Presbyterian Church and the sacred cantata, "Star of Bethlehem," at St. John's Methodist Church. The Chess Club will give parties for patients at

FARM BOARD HAS NOT CHANGED ITS POLICY, AND WON'T, EGGE DECLARES

Chamber of Commerce Should Find Out What Is Planned Before Trying to Lecture, He Asserts.

AYS GRAIN TRADE'S PROTESTS ARE FUTILE

Business Men Are 25 Years Behind Times in Views on Agricultural Problem, He Tells Chamber.

By PAUL E. ANDERSON, Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29. — The Federal Farm Board has not altered its policies in response to protests from the grain trade, and it does not intend to alter them. Any expression to that effect made by the recent testimony of Julius H. Barnes before the Senate Lobby Investigating Committee is wholly erroneous, Chairman Legge of the farm board declared yesterday.

Referring to the conference that he had with certain grain commission men at Barnes' request, the chairman said that Barnes was out of the room part of the time, and during his testimony, did not understand what was said. He stated that the board is "willing to discuss its program at any time with anybody who may have any information," but declared that his willingness did not imply any promise to modify its policies.

Legge made public a copy of a letter which he has sent to William Butterworth, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, in which he commented sharply upon the chamber's recent statement on the farm problem. The chairman intimated rather bluntly his opinion that the chamber is about 25 years behind the times in its conception of the agricultural problem, and suggested even more plainly that the chamber should find out what the board is doing before attempting a lecture.

Explanation of Interest Rates Explaining the matter of interest rates on farm board loans, to which Barnes alluded in his testimony before the Senate Committee, Legge pointed out that the farm board is prohibited by law from charging more than 4 per cent. It has been charging about 4 1/2 per cent. The board's loans are made to a central agency, such as the National Grain Corporation, which in turn lends to the local co-operatives, which in turn lend to the producers.

The expense of handling the loans is met by adding to the interest rate as the money passes down, but in most cases the chairman said the rate to the ultimate borrower has been lower than the prevailing commercial rate.

He declared that, regardless of any opposition, it would be the board's policy to insist that the ultimate rate be no higher than is necessary to cover administrative expenses and make up a sinking fund with which to meet possible losses. He did not believe this would be greatly lower than the prevailing commercial rate, but he believed it would be lower.

The chairman forecast that the National Grain Corporation set up by the farm board will handle at least 25 or 30 per cent of next year's wheat crop, and said the proportion might be much higher. When it reaches 50 per cent, he declared, the corporation will be able "to exercise a profound effect on the marketing situation."

Legge made public the following letter, which he sent to Chairman Barnes of the Senate Lobby Investigating Committee, following the appearance of Barnes to answer reports that he had endeavored to obstruct the board's policies:

"Inasmuch as the question of interest on advances made by this board out of the revolving fund provided by the Agricultural Marketing Act, has come up for discussion before your committee, perhaps the following statement may clarify some of the points involved.

"As we understand the Agricultural Marketing Act, the main purpose is to build up farmer-owned and farmer-controlled co-operative organizations to the end that the farmer may control his own destiny in marketing his products. A revolving fund is provided by which loans may be made to co-operatives to enable the farmer to market his product in an orderly manner.

"Upon representation from the co-operative, the board from the beginning recognized that in

New York Federal Court Decision Lends Support to City's Effort To Cut Public Service Valuation

Three Judges Hold That Depreciation to Full Amount of Reserve Set Aside Has Occurred and Deduct This Amount from Valuation.

A decision lending strong support, because of similarity of circumstances, to the effort of the City of St. Louis to have the valuation of the St. Louis Public Service Co. reduced on account of a balance of $4,469,730 in the company's depreciation reserve fund at the time the Public Service Commission fixed the valuation, was handed down by a statutory Federal Court of three judges in a case involving the valuation and rates of the New York Telephone Co. Copies of the decision have just reached St. Louis.

In the New York case a special master, in arriving at "fair value," had deducted from original cost and reproduction cost only the amount of actual depreciation admitted by the company. The amount far less than the total in the company's depreciation reserve fund created by allowance regularly set aside out of revenue and included in operating expense.

The court held that in the absence of positive proof to the contrary depreciation to the full amount of the reserve set aside had occurred or was imminent and found that in the case of the company's property in the State of New York, which alone was involved in the suit, this excess reserve amounted to $40,000,000. This amount was deducted from the valuation as found by the master.

In the Commission considered.

The City contended the balance in the company's depreciation reserve fund should have been deducted from the original cost, since this amount represented money returned to the owners out of excess rates, not expended in restoring depreciation but used by the owners as they saw fit. In this case it was shown that the greater part of the reserve fund had been expended for additional equipment, a capital expenditure which went into the rate base valuation.

The City appealed from the Public Service Commission decision, first to the Circuit Court of Cole County and then to the State Supreme Court. In the latter court he case has been argued and is awaiting decision.

In the New York decision, after finding the amount existing in the depreciation reserve fund over the observed depreciation allowed by the master, the Court said:

"Either the property has in fact depreciated to the extent of the depreciation reserve which has been created, or it has not. If it has not the plaintiff (Telephone Company) has been allowed to take money from its rate payers under the claim of depreciation which was not there, either seen or unseen, and which it will never have to admit. In that case, the excess reserve has been acquired lawfully and is the property of the plaintiff.

"For Valuation Purposes.

"But if the actual depreciation exists to the extent that the plaintiff has claimed in building up this reserve, it exists as much for valuation purposes as it did for creation of the surplus. Whether or not the plaintiff admits the depreciation now or must do so in the future is unimportant, for it is there, and the time of its admission is immaterial to the question of its existence."

The theory here is that when a company has in cash to do with as it pleases an excess depreciation fund, it may not earn doubly on that sum, or any part of it, through

EXTENSION OF SHIP BUILDING HOLIDAY FAVORED BY JAPAN

Head of Delegation Says Country Wants Capital Vessel Program Suspended Till 1936.

WOULD ALSO LIMIT AIRPLANE CARRIERS

Government Could Thus Save $300,000,000, Spokesman Declares—Group Sails For London.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Dec. 20.—Rafjore Wakatsuki, head of the Japanese delegation to the London naval conference, said here yesterday that his Government would support a battleship building suspension until 1936. He said Japan would insist on the 10-10-7 ratio in auxiliary ships and the right to construct an adequate tonnage of submarines deemed necessary to defend the many islands of the country.

He also disclosed that his Government favors a program for closer limitation on the construction of airplane carriers.

The Japanese delegates to the London conference were the guests of the countrymen yesterday before an 8 for London last night. They arrived yesterday from Washington.

"If the proposal for a complete capital ship holiday comes before the conference," he said, "the Japanese delegation will be prepared to consider a similar agreement on airplane carriers. In addition, the present limits on construction of airplane carriers could well be reduced to lower levels."

The Japanese attitude on both capital ships and airplane carriers will be fully stated at the conference by the Japanese delegation as soon as the question is brought up, he added.

When the Japanese Government considers the economic savings due to such a proposal to be important," the delegate continued, "it must be borne in mind that the most vital matter for the consideration of the conference is that of limiting the categories which are not now limited."

"Program was made in capital ship limitation at the Washington conference, and all interested parties recognize that, once started, such a project is more readily revived and easily progressed than one which has not been touched on or which has met with failure on previous occasions."

"The establishment of limitations on auxiliary craft is therefore the most important matter for the forthcoming parley and Japan will enter the conference prepared to back reduction of auxiliary vessels in conformity with the policy established by the 'Lloyd Government'."

The former Premier also insisted that his country be allowed to build as many submarines as are required to defend Japan's many islands.

"The amount of tonnage that Japan desires to hold in submarines has nothing to do with France, Italy, or any other Power," he said. "A certain amount is absolutely necessary for defense purposes. My country is composed of so many small islands that we consider the submarine the most adequate class of ships for defense purposes."

The delegate declined to discuss

HOT DOGS STAND IN ROTUNDA OF STATE CAPITOL BANNED

Unsanitary Contrast to Art There Is Reason to Move to Another Part of Building.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 20.—A hot dog and pie stand, which for years has occupied a prominent place in the rotunda of the Capitol, was ordered yesterday to be removed to a "less conspicuous place" in the building by the State Board of Permanent Seat of Government.

For several years art lovers have protested at intervals against the pie counter in the rotunda in harsh contrast with 12 paintings by Frank Brangwyn, which adorn the great dome above the rotunda.

Elective State officials comprising the Board of Permanent Seat of Government have heretofore allowed the $35 a month rent paid by the concession holder to outweigh artistic consideration, however.

Gov. Caulfield and State Treasurer Brink have opposed the retention of the stand in the rotunda.

Whether the decision to open the speeches was his own or that of some member of the Government, it generally was considered a move, stressing for the British people the deep consequence of the matters at issue. Incidentally, it was accepted as a firm indication of the King's recovery from his illness.

The Morning Telegraph, Conservative, today said "it will appeal to the whole world that the naval conference to which all eyes are turned will be opened by the sailor King."

The Daily News, Liberal, thinks the action of the King will be hailed with pleasure not only in Great Britain but in the United States and the entire world.

"It will demonstrate his majesty's deep interest in the work of the conference which probably will be momentous in relations of the states represented and the high importance which the occasion holds in the eyes of the British Government," the News said.

POPE PIUS ENTERS ITALIAN TERRITORY AND SAYS MASS IN ST. JOHN LATERAN

He Is First Pontiff to Leave the Vatican Since Voluntary Exile Was Begun in 1870.

By the Associated Press.

ROME, Dec. 20.—Pope Pius XI, ending nearly 60 years of self-imprisonment of the Pope in the Vatican, made his exit at dawn today from the pontifical quarters and entered Italian territory. It was the first time since 1870, when the Kingdom of United Italy was formed and the papal state destroyed, that a Pope had left the Vatican.

Notifying hardly anyone, the Pope drove in an automobile from the Vatican to St. John Lateran, the palace or church where, last Feb. 1, the treaties were signed solving the so-called Roman question.

The Pope celebrated mass at St. John Lateran commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination as a priest. A bulletin announcing the event was issued by the Stefani News Agency later.

St. John Lateran is known as the mother church of Christendom and is considered the Cathedral of Rome. It was therefore natural that the Pope, who is Bishop of Rome, should go there. He was the first Pope to celebrate mass at St. John Lateran since Pius IX, who left the Vatican at 6 a. m., accompanied by Mr. Gaetano Dominioni, chamberlain of his household, and a few other attendants.

JOHN G. NEIHARDT

SAMUEL JOHNSON, PRESIDENT OF KING'S COLLEGE. Edited by Herbert and Carol Schneider. With a Foreword by Nicholas Murray Butler. (Columbia University Press.)

NT serious student of our pre-revolutionary history may acquire himself lucky if he is able to procure a set of this handsome two-volume work. It is probable that by far the larger portion of the edition will go directly to public libraries, since there are only a few copies, printed from type, and the great value of the work to the reference section of any large library is obvious.

Samuel Johnson, who founded King's College (now Columbia University) in 1754 and was its first president, was born in 1696 on his grandfather's homestead in Connecticut. He died in 1773. By way of placing Samuel Johnson in time, Nicholas Murray Butler writes as follows in his foreword: "From those men who were powerful and distinguished as exponents and interpreters of the political movements that were stirring in the Colonies, there appear to have been but three personalities who distinctly rose above mediocrity in the strictly intellectual life of the dwellers on the Atlantic seaboard during the middle of the eighteenth century. These three were Samuel Johnson, who was the eldest, Jonathan Edwards and Benjamin Franklin. Of the three, Johnson and Franklin were friends and correspondents. Johnson and Edwards had something intelligently in common. All three of these men were personally associated with the movement to found colleges in the middle Colonies."

The first volume presents Johnson's autobiography, now published for the first time, together with many biographical notes from contemporaneous sources and Johnson's own catalog of the books he read between the years 1719 and 1755.

The second volume, dealing with the man as a philosopher, contains the complete text of his "Elementa Philosophica" which, printed by Benjamin Franklin, was the first textbook of philosophy used in the Colonies. A large selection from Johnson's voluminous correspondence on philosophical matters is given—notably that with his friend, Bishop Berkeley.

The fourth volume is devoted to Johnson's correspondence and activities as a churchman, many of his sermons being included. Volume four deals with the founding of King's College and the early history of that institution.

LORENZO THE MAGNIFICENT. By David Loth. (Brentano's). Italy of the Renaissance in all its splendor, with Florence, the home of Lorenzo the Magnificent, in the foreground, is brilliantly portrayed in this volume, and the famous men of the time—Botticelli, Leonardo da Vinci, Amerigo Vesputi, Michelangelo and Savonarola—are to be met in its pages.

The biographer depicts Lorenzo, heir to the Medici fortune, as a most precocious youth. Wise beyond his years, he was sent on a foreign mission when only 12. At 14 he was held in high esteem by the Pope. Before reaching 21 he was head of the Florentine State and controlled the largest fortune in the civilized world.

Possessing the ugliest face and craziest brain in all Italy, Lorenzo started on the career that earned for him the title of "The Magnificent." Not only did he cultivate the friendship of the great men of his own land, but by using the fortune of the Medici banks he made friends of many countries his friend by putting them under obligation to him.

At home "The Magnificent" smothered his political enemies with kindness by sending them as emissaries to countries far from Florence. Thus his political power was kept safe. Lorenzo had one principal maxim of statecraft: "Keep the people prosperous and amused and they won't care about the government." Incidentally, he kept their eyes off the Treasury.

Living a full life, Lorenzo showered money on artists and thinkers while he, himself, dabbled in poetry and philosophy. The ancient glory of the famous old University of Pisa was restored by this many-sided Florentine. When many great men are just beginning to taste fame, Lorenzo died an old man. He had tasted and become tired of everything his age offered.

This story of the Renaissance should enthrall anyone who loves the dramatic. It is a lurid book, but it was a lurid time.—O. R. H. netment will be in Mobile.

New York Day by Day

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.

THOUGHTS while strolling: A tea room called "The Meeting House." Who remembers when isolation homes were pest houses? Fake raincoat sales. An old fashioned quilt shop. Ralph Barton, a Kansas City (Mo.) boy, who made good in the city. Joe Urban's back resembles the back of a hock.

Most of the Waldorf employees are now at the Hotel Governor Clinton. Those nervous fellows who are always twisting their necks in their collars. So many chauffeurs wearing horn-rimmed glasses. The snow white Fifth avenue bus with safety mottoes in gold. Frank Fay.

Boys who wear the wide-shouldered ulsters. And putty shaped pipes. The new careless banks—like a somber paneled wing in the Metropolitan Museum. Shaved old women who resemble Ruth Draper's imitations. Short ladies grown tall in long skirts. Rothstein's apartment house, the Fairfield, now the Francolin.

Winter panhandlers who wear several suits of heavy underwear. And go about without overcoats for sympathy. Cockatoo ladies with white streaks in their hair. These deferential assistant hotel managers who stand about—howling from the waist. Louis Bromfield, the novelist.

W. R. Hearst Jr., resembles his father, Poppish Japs with right mustaches and bony bright eyes. Kaddish accents who talk of "catching an act." Immaculate Gappers with upturned sleeves of hair plastered on their cheeks. What's become of all the diamond brooches? Dean Palmer.

Easy money boys of a few weeks ago begin to look seedy. Purple tinted chows. A Rockwell Kent lithograph attracts a window crowd. Lads who put on dinner jackets to stand about lobbies on first nights—but never see the show. Nothing so interesting as a cabinet display of theatrical photographs.

Harry Hirschfield is getting snow white too. Clara Luce swathed in black furs. And they say you can pick up a milk coat for a song these days. Sammy Shipman, the light weight. A dollar an hour punting bar studio. Don Marquis, from California. Ruddy and beaming.

WHEN a theater ballyhooes a new production as a "limited engagement" it is another way of saying they do not expect it to linger long.

JUST now I am concerned about the statement of a distinguished scientific gentleman at a dinner last night that we have no absolute proof that what looks like a material object—say a chair—is anything more than a mental image. That makes you catch at your thumbs.

"WHY," writes someone, "does any mention of a night boat to Albany on the stage always inspire a guilty smile? I chuckle myself, although I was never on one."

I wish that was all I had to worry about.

THOSE who remember Coogan's Bluff in Harlem as mostly shanties, dump houses and coming gobs should see it today. Ram-parted with skyscraper apartments, it is a fairland of light at night. The Polo Grounds—so called because polo is never played there—occupies a vast acreage with its baseball amphitheater. Along the Harlem River stretches the famous Speedway with its stone parapet and constant procession of costly cars. In the river, once dotted with coal barges, there are now high-speed motor boats.

yachts and colleagues in skulls are constantly rushing along. On pleasant Sundays the promenade is filled in the late afternoon with silk-hatted men and fashionably dressed women who may enjoy a three-mile straightaway walk without crossing a street intersection.

ON the slant of Coogan's Bluff there is an old-fashioned spring, to which a trickle of people is always mounting—a "back home" touch few can resist.

COME to think of it, there isn't much to an artichoke. But there is no vegetable you order providing so much genuine fun. (Copyright, 1929.)

S MALL talk from the capital: Representative Sol Bloom, the "gentleman from Broadway," has had a "No Parking—Entrance" sign placed outside his Sixteenth street apartment where no such sign appeared before. His liveried chauffeur had difficulty getting to the curb with the big maroon limousine.

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen of Florida has demanded and obtained a place on the House Committee on Foreign Affairs. She insisted she had to have it. The House voted to enlarge the committee to make place for her. Mrs. Owen voted for the Hawley tariff monolithically.

Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, formerly prominent in official circles and the Hoover campaign, will be honored at a dinner tendered by the Women's Bar Association of the District of Columbia. Nothing has been announced as to whether her speech will be edited by James Francis Burke.

Patrick J. Hurley, the new Secretary of War, is described among the "new patriots" as being by all odds the most high-hatted and socially ambitious of the Hoover crop of officials. Hurley seemed so to us, but if he is he will get over it.

A READER wants to know what has become of the "C" in the President's signature. It is hard to tell. His full name is Herbert Clark Hoover, the middle name being the maiden name of his mother. He signed himself Herbert C. Hoover while Secretary of Commerce, but has dropped the "C" from his autobiography in the Congressional Directory.

The change was made some time in the 1922 campaign. There is no explanation of how these things come about. President Wilson never signed himself Thomas Woodrow Wilson, yet that was his name. Grover Cleveland dropped the Stephen. George Akerson, the President's secretary, has dropped an "R" from the middle of his name.

E RECTION of a $2,000,000 memorial building in Washington to the Negroes of the United States was proposed here a few days ago and the project seems to have been undertaken with a fair outlook for success. A group of Negro leaders conferred with President Hoover, and the National Negro Memorial Commission was organized to open a financial campaign early in 1930.

Dr. John R. Hawkins of Washington declared the building should "depict and perpetuate the Negro's contribution to America and his achievements in the military and naval services, statesmanship, agriculture, invention, education, literature, industry—a fitting tribute which would serve as an educational center and inspire the present and future generations to follow the example of those who aided in the advancement of the race and nation."

It is proposed that the building "contain a hall of fame, art and music rooms, a large library with rooms representing the various states, a museum and place for statues and tablets." It is suggested that the building have an auditorium capable of seating 4000 persons.

FARM BOARD TO STAND FIRM, DECLARES LEGGE

order to cover their expenses and possible losses in handling such loans, it would be necessary for them to add small additional charge to the farmer-borrower. This addition may vary somewhat as to particular commodities, but any saving made becomes the property of the farmers through their co-operatives. In reaching this conclusion in conference with co-operatives, the board acted solely for the benefit of the farmer under the provision of the act.

"Inasmuch as there are 12,500 co-operatives often competitive with another, the board concluded that it would not always be conducive to an efficient administration of the act to deal directly with separate co-operatives representing certain agricultural commodities. For the purpose of strengthening the co-operative movement in such commodities it has therefore sought to create national associations of such commodity co-operatives, through which its loans might be centralized, thus avoiding competition, duplication and unnecessary expense, to the end that the producer might secure the funds provided in the act with the utmost dispatch and at the lowest rate."

Disappointed With Report.

His letter to Butterworth was as follows:

"Replying to your letter of Dec. 9, I would say that I feel that your committee in the making of the report which you inclosed, has rather missed what we believe to be the principal object of the Agricultural Marketing Act. This report is largely a decision of a comparison of the costs of operation as between private traders and co-operative organizations. This reflects the thought of the farmers' co-operatives of 25 or 30 years ago, when they sought to improve their condition by joining together and buying or building a local elevator at some point in the country for handling their grain. Obviously, any advantage in that would be limited to any savings they could make as compared to the private operation of a similar elevator. Such organizations have not and could not be expected to have had any appreciable effect on the marketing of their product as a whole.

"Perhaps on an average a comparison of the cost of the co-operatively managed local institutions with that of private concerns doing the same service would be in favor of the privately owned operations, but yet this could not have any bearing on the broader problem as to whether the marketing system as a whole is susceptible to a change which would be advantageous to the producers.

For Gradual Marketing.

"Unless we can work out a different system of marketing which goes far beyond the question of saving a fraction of a cent per bushel on grain, a few cents per bale on cotton, or a few cents per head on live stock, as compared to the present system, there would be little hope of progress in the line of putting agriculture on an equality with other industries, for the simple reason that if all of these operating costs were added to the price the farmer gets for his product it would make but little difference in the return to the grower. On the other hand if gradual marketing of what the farmer has to sell through a longer period instead of within a few weeks, as is now the prevailing practice, could be brought about it may be possible to make a material improvement in the returns to the producer.

"I think you will agree with me that such a change can only be brought about by the producer himself, as the private trader could not hope to have any measurable influence on this phase of the marketing process. To follow it to its logical conclusion, this would result in adjusting production to the reasonable consumptive demand of requirements. In other words, as the agricultural marketing act puts it, 'control surplus at its source' and, after all, this is the fundamental difference between agriculture and other industries. It is a condition which we can only hope to correct by collective action on the part of the agricultural producers. If, in carrying out such a program, certain reasonable adjustments on the part of existing agencies to adapt themselves to new conditions are found necessary, this should be regarded as incidental to changing business conditions rather than attacking anybody's business.

"A few years ago the introduction of the automobile affected rather seriously one of the lines (buggies) which you were producing at the time. If my memory serves me correctly, you did not appeal for help, but rather proceeded to adjust your business to the new condition, in which effort you seem to have been quite successful. While the changes in the agricultural marketing program may necessitate some adjustments on the part of some of those now dealing in agricultural commodities, any improvement in the return to the farmer cannot prove other than helpful to the other industries of the nation."

Train Rocks Into Station Midway.
A Pennsylvania train from Pittsburgh backed about six feet into the midway of Union Station at 10 o'clock this morning after crashing through the bumper at the end of the tracks in the train head. One was injured. A section of steel wall about track No. 12 was smashed away and the rear coach platform was damaged. Henry Miller, president of the Terminal Association, attributed the accident to failure of a trainman to apply the brakes in time.

POPE PIUS ENTERS ITALIAN TERRITORY AND SAYS MASS

tendants. Meanwhile he had had the director of the Lombard Seminary notified, since he wished to be assisted at mass by the students of the school.

The Lombard Seminary served young Don Achille Ratti on Dec. 21, 1879, when the future Pope said his first mass at San Carlo al Corso, and he wished their successors to be with him for the fiftieth anniversary of his priesthood.

Shortly after he arrived at the palace the students of the Roman Seminary received word of the event and hastily went to the church where they assisted the Pontiff. The Pope said the regular low mass of the fourth Friday in Advent with commemoration of Saint Liberatus, the bishop whose feast falls today.

The Pontiff wore the dark purple vestments suitable to the mourning season of Advent, Wednesdays and Fridays of which are observed as days of fasting and abstinence.

The altar at which the Pope officiated was the one before which he was ordained.

One Acolyte in Attendance.

The mass celebrated by the Pontiff was the same said by thousands of parish priests in the world today. Only one acolyte attended him. The only circumstances distinguishing the event were the singing of the choir of the Pontifical Roman Seminary and the chant of the Te Deum by the small body of clergy attending.

At the conclusion the Pope mounted his throne, which had been waiting 59 years for the Bishop of Rome's occupancy, and received there the homage of the Cathedral Chapter. Then returning to the altar he imparted the Apostolic Benediction to all present.

He halted to venerate the sacred relics kept at the church, which include what is purported to be a table of the Last Supper, and paused to admire a memorial tablet which St. John's Chapter prepared in commemoration of the Jubilee year.

As he left the palace he was bidden farewell by Cardinal Pompili, Archbishop of the Lateran Basilica; Mgr. Marchetti Selvaggiani and Mgr. T. Cole, director of the Lateran Museums.

After the mass, which was said at the altar of the confession, the Pope had breakfast in a little room at the Lateran Palace and then, accompanied by Mgr. Ercole, he visited the Missionary Exposition there. He ended his visit in the hall where the Lateran treaties were signed.

History of Popes' Exile.

The voluntary-exile of the Popes in the Vatican began in 1870 when the troops of the first Victor Emmanuel took Rome in the name of the Kingdom of United Italy. Pope Pius IX, his temporal power ended, withdrew to the Vatican, never thereafter to leave it.

His successors emulated his example, the relations with the House of Savoy continuing strained until recently when the present Pontiff and the Italian Premier, Benito Mussolini, sought a solution.

This solution was reached with signing of the so-called Lateran treaties, establishing the Vatican and certain surrounding territory as the Vatican State or Vatican City, in which the Pope would have practically all the privileges and sovereignty of the usual temporal ruler.

On Dec. 5 the Pope received the King and Queen of Italy at the Vatican, the first of the House of Savoy to set foot therein, and the next day received the Princes and Princesses of the blood.

COURT DECISION SUPPORTS EFFORT TO CUT P. S. C. VALUATION

cision is of further interest because of other large deductions the Federal Court made from the valuation as found by the master. Going value was reduced from $25,000,000 to $10,000,000. An item of $22,843,900 for estimated cost of financing reconstruction was eliminated. Another large deduction was an item of $17,352,214 for "inexperience factor." This item was allowed by the master on the company's claim that in reconstruction it had to buy its equipment elsewhere than from the Western Electric Co., subsidiary of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., the cost would be that much more because no other company has the experience or facilities for producing the equipment for a lower cost.

The court ruled out such theoretical conjectures, pointing out the duty of the company to buy its equipment at the lowest cost in any case.

Summing up, the court reduced the valuation from the master's figure of $192,128,434 to $475,179,000, but it granted the company a partial relief asked for, holding that existing rates were not adequate to pay just compensation on the value of the property.

The Court held that, in view of the company's freedom from competition and its growing business, a return of 7 per cent was ample "to assure capital and reward investors."

TWO DOWNTOWN SALOONS, THREE SPEAKEASIES RAIDED

Federal prohibition agents last night raided three upper-floor speakeasies and two saloons in the downtown district. In one place they arrested Mrs. Lillian Taber, 35 years old, and her husband, Fred, when agents asserted she served them drinks in a second-floor room at 100 Market street. Warrants were issued for the arrest of Taber and her husband with possession and sale of liquor will be sought today, the agents reported that they had previously bought drinks from Taber.

Men: Describing themselves as Thomas Burke, 31, and Otto Richter, 29, were arrested, and a quantity of whiskey and beer seized in an establishment on the second floor at 518 Walnut street.

In an office on the second floor of the Gamble Building, 438 Chestnut street, the agents arrested Andrew Blahel, after reporting that they bought whiskey with marked bills. A search in the office was made for possible signs of liquor of whiskey, the agents reported.

Saloons at 7 South Fourteenth street and 1554 South Third street also were raided.

Case 30 Years for Killing

FORSTHER, Mo., Dec. 25.—William Perry was convicted Wednesday of killing Dan Klumpe near here and was sentenced to 30 years imprisonment.

SANTA IS GOING TO CALL ON ORPHANED BOY

Child, 11, Held Prisoner for Six Weeks in City Hospital Finds Home.

It is a well-known fact that Santa Claus is not in the habit of paying visits to bad boys, but this Christmas, at least one "bad boy" is assured of a visit from him.

He is Edgar Buchanan, 11-year-old orphan ward of the Children's Aid Society, who until yesterday morning had been held a prisoner in the observation ward of the City Hospital for six weeks.

Yesterday a home was found for him and he was turned over to his foster-parents, who promised him they would see to it that he received a visit from Santa Claus.

Run Away Twice.

When Edgar was taken to the hospital, Nov. 4, by representatives of the Children's Aid Society, the words "bad boy" were written opposite the "provisional diagnosis" on his chart, and, there being no place to put him, he was locked up in the men's observation ward. It is in this ward that mental incompetents, drunkards and men held by police for observation are placed.

Although continued observation failed to disclose anything unusual either in his mental or physical condition, he remained a prisoner, where he was in daily contact with persons of unsound mind.

Hospital authorities are frankly pleased that Edgar has departed. They admit that they were at a loss as to just what to do with him, saying that he could not be kept in the observation ward, twice he ran away from them, both times after he was removed to the medical ward.

Children's Aid Society representatives are hoping that he will not run away from his new home. Twice before he has left foster homes, but they believe that the promised visit from Santa Claus will keep him at home this time.

Edgar seemed least worried of all when seen by a reporter shortly before he was released from the hospital. He was found standing on a chair in the office of the observation ward, studying a map of the city.

"I want to be sure of where I'm going the next time I run away," Edgar said with a wide grin. "I'm not really a bad boy like they say I am, but I don't like it here much."

"I sure hope I get away before Christmas, because I don't think Santa Claus will be able to find me here."

INFANT KILLED; MOTHER HELD

Child Thrown Into Abandoned Iron Ore Furnace.

LONACONING, Md., Dec. 25.—Mrs. Marian East, 34 years old, was charged today with causing the death of her 5-week-old daughter by throwing the child into an abandoned iron ore furnace just outside the town, yesterday.

Police, who found the baby on a pile of junk at the bottom of a 40-foot drop, thought poverty and ill health had deranged the mother's mind.

Hospital authorities are frankly

AVIATORS START SEARCH OF EIELSON

Teller, Alaska, to Find Flyer and Mechanic Missing Six Weeks.

Associated Press.
NOME, Alaska, Dec. 20.—Pilot
Crosby and Harold Gillingham left from Teller, Alaska, for Nome in the search for Pilot Carl Eielson and Mechanic Earl Gordon, missing since Nov. 9 after being shot down over North Cape. They had been seen flying across Bering sea and it was supposed they had reached the mainland.
Crosby and Gillingham were in Nome for an hour and half after they left and their planes seemed to be functioning well. There were no banks over the Strait far out into the sea.

James Young and Barnhill left today, if weather permits, with two planes carrying supplies for the flyers.
They have preceded them.
North Cape, where Eielson and Gordon are thought to have been shot down, is 500 miles from Nome.

LOBBYIST ARNOLD DENOUNCED IN SENATE REPORT

Activities of Southern Tariff Body's Manager Called Reprehensible in High-Degree.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 20.—Assailing J. A. Arnold, manager of the Southern Tariff Association, as a man utterly without regard for veracity and to wearing sense of self respect. Chairman Caraway presented to the Senate today the report of the Lobby Investigating Committee touching on Arnold's activities.

The report described Arnold's operations on behalf of the Tariff Association, the American Taxpayers' League and the National Council of State Legislators as reprehensible in the highest degree, even though no specific statute, penal in nature, may have been violated.
Declaring Arnold had collected more than $1,000,000 in the last four years for the three organizations, it asserted this was a type of lobbying against which the public ought to be protected by appropriate legislation.

Commenting on the report in presenting it to the Senate, Caraway said Arnold was a man who would deny his own signature if necessary.
Kirby also denounced.
Caraway also assailed John H.
Kirby of Houston, Tex., president of the association, declaring the statement Kirby that he contributed $2000 a year to the tariff organization had been proved untrue.

Senator Wheeler (Dem., Mont.), asked Caraway if Arnold was the man the Republican party had selected down there for Senator.
The committee chairman replied that Arnold was a very close friend of R. B. Crenshaw, who is Republican National Committeeman from Texas.

Arnold has been questioned at length by the committee and was sharply criticized by its members in the course of his testimony.
The report asserted that the committee has inquired into the activities of the organizations Arnold represented and added that he operated ostensibly to influence congressional legislation, but, in fact, for the purpose of making a living for himself and a small group associated with him.

No Such Organization.
"There is in truth no such thing
as a Southern Tariff Association, or, for that matter, an American Taxpayers' League," the report said.

After a meeting New Orleans, in 1920, the report says, the existence of the Southern Tariff Association was proclaimed, with Kirby president and Arnold manager. The report added that two years later another meeting was held and they "continue nominally to hold pursuant to such election."

"The Southern Tariff Association is an institution, if such it may be called, which has no constitution nor by-laws," the report says. "It has no members, its officers are designated by no organic law; neither the term for which they serve, nor the salary they are to receive is fixed by any instrument of agreement, but, under the name of the Southern Tariff Association, Arnold collects very considerable sums of money, in the year ending Aug. 31, 1929, amounting to $85,149, which he spends or pretends to spend in promoting tariff legislation in the interests of the Southern states."

After his appearance before the lobby committee, Arnold offered his resignation as manager of the Tariff Association, but it was not accepted by the president.

FRANK B. JONES MADE HEAD OF STATE PENAL INSTITUTIONS

JEFFERSON CITY, Dec. 20.—
Frank B. Jones, member of the State Penal Board, a farmer and cattleman of Lawrence County, Mo., was named Superintendent of State Penal Institutions in Missouri
by Gov. Caulfield today, to succeed A. H. Harrison, who was killed Dec. 11 last, in an automobile accident near Fulton, Mo.

Jones, since September, 1927, has served on the Penal Board as Commissioner of Prison Farming.
Known as a scientific farmer and stock breeder, Jones was originally appointed by Gov. Baker to reorganize the three state prison farms and put them on a buying basis.
In appointing him, Gov. Caulfield mentioned his record in improving these adjuncts of the prison. Before September, 1927, Jones had never had any experience with penal institutions.

Jones is a Republican. His home is in State City, where he has extensive farm holdings. He served as a member of the State Board of Agriculture before he took over the prison farms. The salary for the post is $4000 a year, and the director has the use of a residence, drivers and servants and other minor perquisites.

Kansas Officers Installed.
Jackson J. Hagen was installed as president of the downtown Kiwanis Club yesterday. Other officers are: Stephen Hagen, vice-president; Paul Greenlaw, secretary, and Harry Kendall, treasurer.

California Court Delays Maintenance Action Pending Notice to Other Women Involved.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Dec. 20.—
The Superior Court has continued until Jan. 2 the trial of a suit for separate maintenance brought by Mrs. Olive Adm Farnum against William Farnum, actor, because of failure of her counsel to give formal notification of the proceedings to Mrs. Isabella Major of New York. Farnum was accused of misconduct with Mrs. Major and the court ruled she should have opportunities to "protect her name."

Mrs. Farnum, in her brief appearance on the witness stand, testified that she was "more than 50 years old," and had been "only a housewife" since her marriage on Dec. 2, 1906, at Sag Harbor, Long Island, N. Y.

"The last time I saw my husband," she testified, "was when we went into the house at Sag Harbor at 3:30 a. m. last June 18." In her suit Mrs. Farnum alleges that she was accompanied to the Long Island home by Harry H. Chamberlain, her counsel, and his wife, and that they found Mrs. Major in the house with Farnum.

Farnum, in his deposition, said that Mrs.
Major was there merely as a guest.

Mrs. Farnum asks for $2500 monthly allowance. In his deposition Farnum offered to pay his wife $100 a week and divide their community property at Hollywood.
In her deposition, Mrs. Major said:
"I was very fond of him and loved him, but that was all." Mrs. Major is living in New York, where Far-num is appearing on the stage.

$2500 Bank Holdup in Texas.
By the Associated Press.

VALERIA, Tex., Dec. 20.—After locking two clerks and a customer in the vault, three unmasked men robbed the First State Bank of Valeria of approximately $1500 this morning. Twenty minutes later other employees of the bank opened the vault and learned of the robbery.

RUSSIA'S BAD FAITH SHOWN BY ATTACKS, CHINA CHARGES

Military Advances Made to Influence Pending Negotiations, Nationalists Say.

SHANGHAI, Dec. 20.—China's Nationalist Government charged last night that Russia was contin-ing military attacks upon the Manchurian border and invasion of Chinese territory, notwithstanding that preliminary Russo-Chinese negotiations had begun at Khabarovsk for settlement of the Chinese Eastern Railway controversy.

The Chinese statement, made through the Government's Kuomins News Agency, asserted that Russia was guilty of bad faith in seeking by military activities to effect a settlement in Russia's favor. The Chinese already have yielded to one of the demands of the Soviet Government and have appointed Russians to the posts of manager and assistant manager of the railway which crosses Manchuria.

Russia is charged with inciting Mongolian Reds to occupy the railway, of which the Russians have retained possession since they invaded Northwestern Manchuria Nov. 20 and expelled Chinese troops.
Finally, China's high officials asserted that Russian officials refused recently to permit the train of consular representatives to penetrate the territory occupied by Russians, blocking efforts to learn the condition of foreigners since the soviet forces took armed possession.

County Jail Empty.
MOUNT VERNON, Ill., Dec. 20.—
For the first time in many months the Jefferson County Jail has been without prisoners for a period of 24 hours. The jail sometimes has no prisoners for a short time but it has been many months since the interval was more than a few hours. Lee Chapman of West Frankfort, charged with a confidence game in two check-transactions, was the last prisoner.
He filed bond for $1000 and was released early Tuesday afternoon.

BYRD PARTY CORRECTS AMUNDSEN'S STORY

Impression of Carmen Land Different From That He Reported.

By RUSSELL OWEN

(Copyright, 1933, by the New York Times and the Post-Dispatch.)
This story is published exclusively in St. Louis in the Post-Dispatch. All news articles from members of the Byrd party or from special correspondents assigned to it will appear only in the Post-Dispatch in this city.

LITTLE AMERICA, Antarctica, Dec. 19.—A message from Dr. Laurence Gould, head of the Byrd geological party in the Queen Maud Mountains, says:
"Better weather has let us travel for the past two days. Camped tonight at Camp McKinley, 35 degrees 28 minutes south latitude and 157 degrees 10 minutes west longitude. Great trip. Finding things much different than Amundsen has them. Just now leaving camp to climb peak nearly to get view of big glacier to the east."

This impression of Carmen Land to the east differs from that reported by Capt. Roald Amundsen from his Polar route, farther west and it agrees with the reports brought back by Commander Richard E. Byrd after his blue-lying and Polar flights. The mountains to the east apparently run in a different direction from what Amundsen thought when he first saw them from his more distant point on the Barrier.

British Explorers Exchange Greetings With Byrd.
LONDON, Dec. 20.—British explorers in London have exchanged Christmas and New Year's greetings with Commander Richard E. Byrd and his expedition in the Antarctic.

Lieutenant-Commander J. H. Mather, secretary of the Antarctic Club, sent a wireless message to Commander Byrd: "The president and members of the Antarctic Club send Christmas and New Year greetings to you and all the members of your expedition."
The American explorer replied: "From Little America I send you sincere appreciation for your greetings, and all the inhabitants of Little America join me in best wishes for Christmas and the New Year."

FRED ESSEN'S ELDEST SON

Announcement of the marriage on May 4, 1928, of Miss Lora Lee King, employed by the Bank of Maplewood, and Roy Frederick Essen, managing editor of the Watchman-Advocate, Clayton, was made yesterday by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Andrew King of Greenfield, Mo.

The marriage, which was known only to a few friends, took place at Winchell, Ill. Mrs. Essen is a former student of the University of Missouri and Washington University. Essen is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Essen of Clayton, and two years ago took over operation of the paper published for many years by his father, Republican political boss of St. Louis County. He was educated at Western Military Academy, served as an ensign in the navy during the World War, and studied law at St. Louis University.
Mr. and Mrs. Essen now visiting at Greenfield, will return for the holidays and will reside at 7701 Shirley drive, Clayton.

Divorce Dr. W. O. Appel.
Mrs. Ila Appel obtained a divorce from Dr. Oliver W. Appel, 3823A Osage street, today on the grounds of general indignities. She said her husband, a dentist with an office in the Missouri Theater Building, frequently told her he did not love her. Appel did not contest. By agreement she received $1000 gross alimony. They were married in 1916 and separated Nov. 15.

ST. LOUIS GROUP IS ORDERED TO RETURN INSURANCE ASSETS

Chicago Court Issues Injunction Taken From Syndicate Control of People's Life.

CHICAGO, Dec. 28.—Judge William J. Lindsey of the Superior Court has issued an injunction taking control of $300,000 in ready assets and the business of the People's Life Insurance Co. of Chicago from a group of St. Louis insurance men headed by J. D. De Buchananne and Paul Temple.

In the Court order the Mississippi Valley Life Insurance Co. is directed to return about $15,000 in cash of the People's company which had been removed to St. Louis. The Mississippi company acquired control of the People's company about a month ago through the alleged forced resignation of the People's directors and their replacement by members of the Mississippi syndicate.

The Court is expected to name a receiver for the People's company while an effort is made to relinquish its policyholders.

Charles J. Stromberg, a minority stockholder, brought the action, charging the St. Louis group with conspiracy. The Court held the charges were well within reason. The injunction was issued when it was shown that De Buchananne, Temple and John Sosa had paid to themselves $175,000 out of the People's fund for their first month's salary. De Buchananne drew $75,000 and the other two $50,000 each. The Court also questioned the motives of the St. Louis group in immediately moving the $15,000 in cash to St. Louis.

and Harris, Both Prohibitionists, Want Early Report and Open Hearings.

Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.—Senators began a drive today to force an early report on the Hooper survey by President Hoover's law enforcement commission.

Two Democratic dry-Senators, Georgia, and Glass, Virginia, gave notice in the Senate that "not another dollar" will be appropriated to the commission until it submits some sort of report on its first eight months of work.

Senator Glass, author of the $400,000 fund for the commission, charged that the commission had "investigation of prohibition" — investigation of prohibition.

Senator Harris said that "every penny of the prohibition bill wants to keep the commission there" without any report. He said he would propose an amendment to the bill appropriating money for the commission requiring it to have open hearings.

Jones Blocks Action.
However, it was another dry-Senator, Jones (Rep.), Washington, who blocked the action today on the resolution of Senator Harris requiring the commission submit a preliminary report to the Senate to be used in connection with dry law enforcement appropriations.

"This commission was appointed principally, if not solely, for the purpose of inquiring into prohibition," said Senator Glass, "but no one has ever known that I have ever known."

There has been no inkling from the commission as to when it will report. Senator Glass said that last week, eight months after the organization of the commission, one of its members came to his office to get a copy of the appropriation bill in which were provided funds for its existence.

Turns on Wickersham.
Senator Harris also directed his fire at Chairman Wickersham of the Commission.

"I do not believe the prohibitionists are going to get any report from this commission, of the Congress the chairman of the Commission and some others can prevent it," he said. "It is the only war-chamber commission of which I know and under our form of Government I don't think there should be a commission coming within that category."

"Every enemy of the prohibition law is in favor of this commission saying there just as they are, acting behind closed doors and conducting their deliberations for years. They expect to stay there for four more years and never make a report and it will not do us any good."

The Georgian said he understood a member of the commission, recently had been looking for a house to lease here for four years. Some time ago Senator Harris (Dem.), Missouri, a wet, gave notice in the Senate that he would insist upon an early report from the Commission and also for open hearings by it.

DEMONSTRATIONS IN GERMANY HELD BY JOBLESS RADICALS Clashes With Police in Berlin and Other Cities Reported; Two Persons Killed.

BERLIN, Dec. 29.—Demonstrations of the unemployed were held by Communists in several large German cities yesterday evening. Clashes with police resulted and it was reported that two men had been killed in the Berlin riots. Many were injured. The demonstrations were held to back up demands for special Christmas relief funds from city councils.

The most serious clashes occurred in Berlin. The fact that the demonstrations were to take place had been widely advertised and the police had issued orders against them. Officers guarded the city hall and repulsed every effort by the demonstrators to reach that building. Officers said shots were fired from one group of the unemployed.

At Plauen the demonstrators hurled stones into the meeting hall of the city council and forced the members to leave. There were also disorders at Kiel, Stralsund and Stuttgart.

SENATORS ASK ABOUT HOOVER'S DRY SURVEY

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Senate today began a drive today to force a report on opening hearings by President Hoover's law enforcement commission.

Senator Glass, author of the $10,000 fund for the commission, charged that the commission had sidetracked the original purpose of investigation of prohibition.

Senator Harris said that "every penny of the prohibition bill wants to keep the commission there" without any report. He said he would propose an amendment to the bill appropriating money for the commission requiring it to have open hearings.

Senator Jones (Rep.), Washington, blocked the action today on a resolution of Senator Harris requiring President Hoover to have the commission submit a preliminary report to the Senate to be used in connection with dry law enforcement appropriations.

This commission was appointed, principally, if not solely, for the purpose of inquiring into prohibition, said Senator Glass, "but within the last week not a member of the commission had even read the prohibition bill authorizing its constitution."

"It is the most extraordinary example of indifference to the expressed will of Congress that I have ever known," he added. "There has been no inkling from the commission as to when it will report. Senator Glass said that report. Senator Glass said that report. Senator Glass said that report."

Senator Harris also directed his committee to get any report from the commission, to the Congress if the chairman of the commission and some others can prevent it," he said. "It is the only star-chamber commission of which I know and under our form of government I don't think there should be a commission coming within that category."

"Every enemy of the prohibition law is in favor of this commission," he said. "They are just as they are, sitting behind closed doors, and conducting their deliberations in secret. They expect to stay there for four more years and never make a report and it will not do."

The Georgian said he understood a member of the commission recently had been looking for a house to lease here for four years. Some time ago Senator Hawes (Dem.), Missouri, a wet, gave notice in the Senate that he would insist upon an early report from the Commission and also for open hearings by it.

CHRISTMAS PUDDINGS
MAY BE MADE NOW Making Puddings This Week
Will Give Them Plenty of Time to Ripen.
There are certain traditional foods that seem almost necessary to the proper celebration of some holidays. Pumpkin pie for Thanksgiving, for instance, and mince pie and plum pudding for Christmas are among these.
The Christmas pudding is now-days met in many guises that would astonish our grandmothers. It is made from carrots and bread crumbs; from gelatin, milk, chocolate and fruit; even a steam pudding made from whole wheat flour, molasses and fruit comes under the name of Christmas Pudding.
Logically, of course, they all deserve the name. But traditionally, it is reserved for that rich mixture of beef suet, bread crumbs,
a great amount of dried fruit such as raisins, currants, dates, figs, candied fruit peel, citron and nuts.
From the strictly dietetic point of view such a rich and hearty desert should not be served with the type of meal that is customary for a holiday. Nevertheless, there are occasions when people do like to do as they please, and dine strictly according to old family custom or to suit personal likes.
Bought Plum Pudding.
These days Christmas puddings or plum pudding may be bought ready cooked and require only a short period of steaming to reheat them before serving. Excellent as many of these are, there are still many housewives who prefer to make their own and for them is published this recipe which came from England a great many years ago.
Fruit puddings of this type should be made long enough ahead of time so that the flavor of the various ingredients may blend and ripen to perfection.
Make your pudding this week in order to give it an much time as possible to ripen. Pudding made by this recipe will keep for six months, providing it is stored in a cool dry place.
English Plum Pudding.
Put three-quarters of a pound of firm beef suet through the meat chopper, using a fine knife.
If the suet is chilled, it will chop readily without becoming greasy.
Put this in a bowl and cream it with one cup of brown sugar.
In another large bowl put four cups of fine stale dry bread crumbs, pour over them two cups of scalded milk and let stand until cool. Then add the beaten yolks of five eggs, one pound of currants, one-half pound of raisins, one-half pound of seedless raisins, one-half pound of candied citron, candied orange and lemon peel.
Mix this, then add the suet and sugar, one cup of grapejuice and one cup of flour sifted with two teaspoons of salt, one teaspoon nutmeg, two teaspoons cinnamon, one-half teaspoon cloves and one teaspoon allspice.
Mix thoroughly with a large spoon and then stir in the whites of the eggs beaten stiff.
Grease pudding mold and fill them two-thirds full with the pudding. Cover or the pieces of heavy brown paper over the tops of the molds and steam for six hours.
Cooking and steaming, we've created a building and equipped it with scalding and water for chilling. You pick out your poultry alive, and it's dressed while you wait. This is something entirely new.

RECIPES FOR DISHES IN WEEK'S MENUS
Several Good Suggestions for Adding Interest to the Daily Meal.
Cheese is a food that belongs to the protein or building group of foods. It is highly concentrated and for that reason combines excellently with many of the starch foods to make most appetizing meals. The cheese souffle mixes cheese with bread crumbs and eggs. The dry bread crumbs are best. Cheese souffle.
Use two cups of the crumbs and mix with them one cup of grated cheese. Cut up the cheese into small pieces and mix with the crumbs. Add two eggs, one well-beaten egg yolk and then fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Pour this into a greased shallow baking dish and bake for 25 minutes.
Served with baked potatoes and a waldorf salad, it makes a particularly appetizing luncheon.
Sweet Potato Souffle.
Peel five medium sized sweet potatoes and cook in boiling water for 25 minutes or until tender. Drain and mash. Then add one-half cup of hot milk, two tablespoons of butter, one teaspoon of salt, white pepper to season and one tablespoon of lemon juice or two tablespoons of sherry flavoring. Whip with a fork until very light and fluffy. Place in a buttered rather shallow baking dish and put soft marshmallows close together over the top. Bake in a moderate oven until the marshmallows are puffy and just beginning to brown.
Serve as soon as possible.
The marshmallows may be omitted and two stiffly beaten egg whites folded into the potato mixture before baking. If this is done, bake for 20 minutes.
Brussels Sprouts Au Gratin.
Pick over one quart of brussels sprouts, removing any wilted leaves and dry in cold water for one hour, boiling water for one hour, and then in a buttered shallow baking dish, add one-half cup of milk, one-half cup of cream, one-half cup of butter, one-half cup of flour, one-half cup of salt, one-half cup of pepper, one-half cup of onion, one-half cup of celery, one-half cup of carrot, RECIPES FOR DISHES IN WEEK'S MENUS

Several Good Suggestions for Adding Interest to the Daily Meal.

Cheese Souffle.
This is a food that belongs to the protein or building group of foods. It is highly concentrated and for that reason combines excellently with many of the starch foods to make most appetizing meals. The cheese souffle mixes cheese with bread crumbs and egg. The dry bread crumbs are best.

Cheese Souffle.
Use two cups of the crumbs and mix with them one cup of grated or finely cut American cheese. Sift two cups of milk and pour over the bread. Season with salt, paprika and dry mustard. Next add two well-beaten egg yolks and the fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Pour this into a greased shallow baking dish and bake for 15 minutes.

Served with baked potatoes and a Waldorf salad, it makes a particularly appetizing luncheon.
Sweet Potato Souffle.
Peel five medium sized sweet potatoes and cook in boiling water for 15 minutes or until tender. Drain and mash. Then add one-half cup of hot milk, two tablespoons of butter, one teaspoon of salt, white pepper to season and one tablespoon of lemon juice or two tablespoons of sherry flavoring. Whip with a fork until very light and fluffy. Place in a buttered rather shallow baking dish and put soft marshmallows close together over the top. Bake in a moderate oven until the marshmallows are puffy and just beginning to brown.

Serve as soon as possible.
The marshmallows may be omitted and two stiffly beaten egg whites folded into the potato mixture before baking. If this is done, bake for 20 minutes.

Brussels Sprouts Au Gratin.
Pick over one quart of brussels sprouts, removing any wilted leaves and dry stems. Soak the sprouts in cold water to which one tablespoon of salt is added for one-half hour. Then drain and cook in boiling salted water for 20 minutes. While the sprouts are cooking, melt two tablespoons of butter, and add three tablespoons of flour and then stir in one and one-half cups of milk. Stir until thickened and smooth and season with one teaspoon of salt, a little pepper and three tablespoons of grated cheese.

Drain the sprouts, put them in a buttered baking dish, cover with the sauce and sprinkle with one-half cup of buttered bread crumbs. Bake in a hot oven for 10 minutes or until the crumbs are brown.
Cream of Potato Soup.
This is a good way of using leftover mashed potatoes. Sauté one quart of milk and add one teaspoon minced onion, one tablespoon of chopped parsley, salt and pepper to season. Pour one cup of boiling water over two cups of mashed potatoes and then rub this mixture through a strainer. Add to the milk with two tablespoons of butter. Thicken if necessary with a little flour or cracker crumbs.

Ginger Cookies.
Sauté one cup of molasses and stir into it one-half cup of shortening, one-half cup of sugar and three tablespoons of milk. Cool and then add two and one-half cups of flour, sifted with one-half teaspoon of salt, one teaspoon of baking soda, one tablespoon of ginger, and one-half teaspoon of allspice. Mix thoroughly and add more flour as necessary to make a softer dough. Chill this over night or for several hours. Break off small pieces of the dough, which will be considerably stiffer and chill- ing and roll very thin, shape with a small cutter, place on a greased baking pan and bake in a moderate oven for 10 minutes or until firm and slightly brown. Cool and store in a tin box. This recipe makes about six dozen cookies which will keep crisp for some time if stored in an air tight box.

Fish for Cocktail.
Prepare fish for cocktail as you do for salad, by boiling in salted acidulated water. Flake fish in large pieces.

WASSAL CUP IS SERVED ON CHRISTMAS DAY

Many Households It Is Served at the Breakfast Table.

Families keep up the old custom of serving wassal cup at Christmas dinner and through the day. The quantity will vary about 12 persons. Two cups sugar, two cups water, six whole cloves, two pieces cinnamon, three allspice berries, one tablespoon chopped Canton ginger, two large, lady fingers, juice of four lemons and two cups sweet cider.

Make a syrup by boiling sugar and water 15 minutes. Add cloves, cinnamon, allspice and ginger and let syrup stand covered in a warm place one hour to infuse. Strain, add orange and lemon juice and cider. Bring quickly to the boiling point and serve at once.

WHY DO THEY SAY
"as good as Frost Coffee?" Because Frost has a national reputation for quality. Remember Frost doesn't cost you any more when you use it pulverized and use a Blake Patent Drip Coffee Pot. Ask your grocer for Blake's Frost—the super coffee—and telephone us and we'll tell you how to get a pot.

Always Remember That "Eats" Are the Best Part of the Party.

Most children love parties and when properly planned they are really an almost necessary part of a child's training, for they teach the laws of hospitality, consideration and sociability in the pleasantest way.

Pity the child whose mother is too busy to "bother with a party," but suggests instead that "you take your little friends down to the ice cream parlor and buy them some ice cream." That's all right as far as it goes, but the child, and the parent, both lose out on such a plan.

But to go back to a real party. Consider first the ages of the youngsters invited and plan the menu accordingly. For small tots around five years of age, it is often best to plan the party to extend over the supper period and serve the party refreshments as a regular supper. If that is not convenient or advisable, plan to serve the food early enough not to interfere too radically with the evening meal.

From three to six o'clock or four to seven are appropriate times for a party if supper is to be served, especially this time of year, when the weather is seldom such as will allow of outdoor games.

Chicken broth with bread sticks
Cold sliced chicken with creamed potatoes

Sandwiches of whole wheat bread
Chocolate ice cream

Small sponge cake. Mint candies
A birthday cake is a very necessary part of the party, but it is best to consider this as apart from the menu. A plain white or spiced cake, iced and decorated in best, use white icing with decorations in color and colored candies to carry out a color scheme. Remember that even very young children are susceptible to attractiveness in foods.

A small niece was recently delighted with her birthday cake, which was a plain white one, iced in white icing and decorated with animal crackers covered with colored icings. The animals were in chocolate, pink, green and yellow icings and marched in a circus procession around the edge of the cake. On the center were four white candles in pink holders. A recipe for this cake will be found at the end of this article.

A birthday offers lots of occasion for ingenuity from beginning to end. See that the invitations are attractively worded, and then plan some form of entertainment that will keep the small bodies occupied every minute.

Those who have had much experience with parties will recognize the need for this! Plan the games to suit the abilities of the little guests, but keep them busy. Guessing games are good for older ones, but kindergarten favorites will be best enjoyed by tiny tots.

Snappers are always popular and favors made in the shape of dolls fashioned from gum drops or dried fruits are sure to please.

Birthday Cake.
Cream together one-half cup of butter and one cup sugar. Add three egg yolks and beat to a smooth, light cream. Add one-half cup pineapple juice and one-quarter cup orange juice. Sift three cups cake flour with two teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt. Beat the egg whites until stiff enough to hold their shape. Add the flour to the egg yolk mixture and when well blended fold in the egg whites.

Four into a greased angel cake pan or any round pan with a hole through the center and bake in a moderate oven for 50 minutes. Turn upside down on a wire rack to cool. Remove from the pan and when cold cover with white or colored icing and decorate as desired.

FONDANT MAKES A Dainty COVERING FOR NUT MEATS
These Delicious Confections Are Easily Made in the Home Kitchen.

Color the fondant a variety of colors and dip different kinds of nuts into the different colors. Those nuts which are more juicy blanching should be blanched before they are covered.

Dates and raisins also may be covered with fondant. More people like the nuts better than the fruit.

Fondant may be colored different colors, flavored, filled with chopped nuts and then made into molds and dipped in the plain melted fondant.

Larger molds can be made, the size of a large egg, cover with a plain fondant and then also before it is served. This gives a pretty tray of colors. Vegetable coloring is used for coloring candy.

Thought for the Day.
Remember that brown sugar gives flavoring as well as sweetening to foods and can be used in many dishes to give a variety of flavors. It is particularly good over hot cereal at breakfast time. To prevent brown sugar getting hard or lumpy keep the box or spreader in a jar in the box or any moist, cool place.

SWEET POTATOES MARGHERITA

Orange Cooked With the Potatoes Give a Delightful Flavor.

This is especially nice to serve with duck or game. Slices of lemon may be mixed with the orange or lemon only may be used if preferred.

Place five boiled sweet potatoes and arrange in rows in a buttered baking dish, alternating with brown sugar, dots of butter and slices of orange with the peel left on. Add enough water to make a thick syrup. Be careful not to add too much water, for the syrup should be quite rich. Bake in a moderate oven—350 degrees F.—for one hour, basting occasionally with the syrup in the dish.

ALMONDS ADD A DECORATIVE NOTE TO FANCY DISHES

Dainty Flavor Is an Additional Reason for Using Them in Cookery.

Blanched almonds lend themselves favorably to dainty decorations.

The blanched nut may be split into halves and tiny little fondant or cheese sandwiches may be made for a clever touch to some course.

The cheese-nut sandwich or tid-bit should be for the entrée and the fondant nut sandwich blend with the dessert courses.

These halves also make a flat design in white to represent the daisy or the star. If the almonds are used as the daisy, then use the angelica for the leaves. It is a delicate green in color, which is a color in demand in Christmas decorations. It is less work than the leaf designs of steamed frosting. It gives another variation for the many types of pretty decorations.

Baked Onions.

Fill a greased casserole with sliced onions, sprinkling each layer with salt and pepper and bits of butter. Bake in a moderate oven for one hour, or until a light brown. Use instead of fried onions with steak, etc. Dressings are good used in place of butter.

HE WAS LIFELESS AND DESPONDENT

But ALL-BRAN made him wide-awake and well-doctor prescribed it

CONSTIPATION ruins hopes, saps strength. Yet thousands of sufferers have found the way to relieve and prevent this disease. Read how this man rid his system of constipation.

"During the three years before All-Bran cured me, I experienced more embarrassing moments than I care to tell of. Being lifeless, dull, lazy and despondent, I could not do my job. My friends didn't want my company and I was tired of being asked 'What is the matter with you?'"

"After spending much money for treatment, I finally found a doctor who advised me to eat All-Bran three times a day. I did this for three months and I didn't need, or feel better and acted better. I am still using All-Bran every morning and have no trouble now whatever."

(Name and address upon request.)

Guard against constipation by eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. ALL-BRAN is guaranteed to prevent it—to relieve it. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. Far better than habit-forming drugs and pills.

ALL-BRAN is 100% effective. Doctors recommend it because it promotes natural elimination. Serve it with milk or cream. Use it in cooking—muffins, bread, etc. Delicious recipes on the package. Grocers sell it. Restaurants, hotels, dining-cars service it. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

DAINTY SWEET CAKES FOR THE HOLIDAY COOKIE JAR

Many Other Varieties Besides Those Given in This Article.

Home cooks should not miss the opportunity to make Christmas cookies. They are most interesting to bake and very handy to have during the holiday period to offer guests who may drop in to exchange the courtesies of the season.

These recipes will be found to make very nice small cakes.

Old Christmas Cookies. Four eggs, two cups powdered sugar, one and one-half cups flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt and one grated lemon peel.

Beat eggs 10 minutes, then add sugar gradually while continuing to beat. Add lemon peel and sift in the flour and salt. Drop onto buttered sheets and place immediately in hot oven and bake 15 minutes. Then lower heat to moderate. This causes a puffed appearance and keeps cookies from becoming flat. Bake 10 minutes longer. Remove from baking sheet immediately.

Walnut Drops. Take one-fourth cup shortening, one-half cup sugar, three egg yolks, one-fourth cup black walnut meal, one-fourth teaspoon clove, one and one-half cups flour, one and one-half teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt and one-fourth teaspoon mace.

Sift dry ingredients. Cream butter and sugar; add chopped nuts, egg yolks and beat well. Last add dry ingredients and water, alternately. Beat thoroughly. Drop from spoon on cookie sheet. Bake in hot oven 15 minutes.

Cream of Mushroom Soup. Chop one-half pound fresh mushrooms, or one can of mushrooms, add to four cups water in which two chicken bouillon cubes have been dissolved, add one slice of onion and cook 20 minutes, then rub through a sieve.

Reheat and blend with one-fourth cup butter and one-fourth cup milk, then add one-fourth cup milk, one-fourth cup cream, salt, pepper, lemon juice to taste. Serve with whipped cream on top and a dash of paprika.

Iceing for Christmas Cake. Mix together three cups sugar, one and one-half cups water and three teaspoons vinegar.

When sugar is dissolved, cover and bring to boiling point. Do not stir while boiling. Remove cover and cook until syrup forms a firm ball when dropped in cold water.

Beat three egg whites until light but not dry. Pour the syrup over them slowly and beat until it holds its shape. For pound cake and chocolate cake, flavor with one teaspoon vanilla.

SWEET PICKLE SANDWICHES These Tidbits Have a Very Unusual But Pleasant Flavor.

Mince enough cooked tongue, or use pickled lamb's tongue, to make one and one-half cups.

Mash one-quarter cup Roquefort cheese, add the tongue and one-quarter cup minced sweet pickle.

Stir in enough mayonnaise to make a paste and use as a sandwich filling with buttered rye bread.

Add a lettuce leaf and thin slices of tomato to each sandwich.

Raisin and Nut Sandwich. Make a filling of one cup chopped raisins and one-fourth cup chopped nuts, moistened with mayonnaise dressing. Spread between thin slices of white or graham bread, allowing the crisp edges of a lettuce leaf to peep out.

full invigorating effect of "Old

all disturbing elements—the biliousness—neutralized.

You can tell him how culture ripening provides this happy combination in coffee.

—how this newly discovered and patented process employs the same mellowing "culture" that used to form on coffees when it lay for long periods in the warm, moist holds of the old wooden sailing ships

—how that natural process enriched the coffee flavor and freed it from tannin

—how that natural ripening
no longer took place when fast steel-hulled steamships replaced
the old sailing vessels

—how Forbes culture ripening today duplicates Nature's process and overcomes the effects of gallic acids by ripening coffee under conditions exactly like those which existed in the holds of the old sailing ships

FAVORITE DISHES FOR CHRISTMAS DINNER

Tradition of the Day Calls for Goose or Roasted Young Pig.

A savory goose is the fowl that is particularly dedicated to the Christmas feast.

As many persons do not care for goose meat, it has become the custom to substitute turkey, chicken, capon, roast pig, baked ham, crown roast pork, spiced round of beef and other favored meats for the traditional goose.

Directions for preparing several of these main dishes are appended.

Roast Goose.

Select a goose that is about four months old. Singe, wash carefully in hot water, and wipe dry before drawing. Flatten breast bone by striking with rolling pin.

Place one unpeeled, washed orange and one unpeeled cored apple in cavity. Tie string firmly on tail and fasten legs securely. Place in hot oven for 30 minutes.

Then remove from oven, take out fruit and pour off excess fat.
When cool, fill with stuffing and sew skin together. Dredge with one-half cup flour to which one-quarter teaspoon salt has been added. Place in hot oven for one-half hour until flour is browned; then reduce heat to slow oven, and finish baking, allowing 25 minutes to each pound.

Baste with hot water during last half hour of roasting.

Remove goose from pan, add cup of hot water to the gravy, and thicken, if necessary, with browned flour.

Roast Turkey.

Clean and truss turkey. Fill with stuffing. Dredge with flour. Cover breast with slices of salt pork and bits of butter. Set on rack in baking pan.

Bake in hot oven uncovered for 30 minutes to sear surface. Then reduce heat to moderate for remainder of baking period, allowing thirty minutes for each pound of turkey.

Baste every 15 minutes with one half cup butter dissolved in one cup boiling water. Cook until well brown and tender.

Roast Duck.

Wash, remove pin feathers and singe duck. Be sure inside is thoroughly cleaned. Fill with prune and apple stuffing. Tie tail securely with a long string and fasten to crossed drumsticks.

Dredge with flour and seasonings
and place in a hot oven for 20 minutes. Then reduce heat and finish roasting, allowing 30 minutes for each pound.

Baste every 10 minutes during last half hour of baking.

Roast Chicken.

Wash, remove pin feathers and singe chicken. Be sure inside is thoroughly cleaned. Fill with mashed potato or savory rice stuffing. Sew up cavity, tie tail securely with long string; fasten to crossed drumsticks. Dredge with flour and seasonings. Place in hot oven 30 minutes. Reduce heat and finish roasting, allowing 30 minutes for each pound. Baste every 10 minutes during last half hour of roasting.

Roast Lamb of Pork.

Dredge pork with flour, season with salt and pepper and sear in broiler. Place in roasting pan in a moderate oven and bake 30 minutes for each pound.

Baked Ham.

Put ham in a deep pot, cover with cold water and bring to the boiling point quickly. Reduce heat and simmer two or three hours or until tender. Take from pot and remove the skin. Cover with brown sugar and stick whole cloves into the ham about two inches apart.
Sprinkle with fine bread crumbs.
Put in a roasting pan with one-half cup water. Brown in a moderate oven 25 to 30 minutes.

FESTIVE CHERRY CAKES WITH GREEN SUGAR TRIMMINGS

Few Small Cakes More Festive Looking or Better Tasting.

Family cooks who desire to grace
the Christmas table with Christmas looking sweets will do well to make Christmas cherry cakes.
They are dainty and the touch of red and green in the top decorations gives the seasonal touch.

To make the batter for these cakes use two-thirds cup butter,
one and one-half cups sugar, one cup water, three cups pastry flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt, four teaspoons baking powder, four egg whites and one-half cup marachino cherries.

Cream butter; add sugar gradually and cream again. Add water and two and one-half cups of flour, which has been sifted with salt.

Beat thoroughly; add cherries and fold in remaining flour, which has been thoroughly sifted with baking powder. Then carefully fold in stiff-beaten egg whites and bake in layers in a hot oven.

When done, cut in two-inch squares or circles and cover with butter cream icing. Roll the edges in chopped browned almonds or toasted coconut. Sprinkle top with chopped pistachio nuts or green sugar. Pipe the edges with icing, using rose tube, then place half a cherry in the center.

How to Arrange Salad.

The lettuce leaf should have the stem and cut-off so that the ragged part does not hang over the edge of the plate. Care should be taken that the garnish is carefully placed.
Place the salad on the lettuce leaf carefully so that it will not fall apart and spread unattractively over the plate.

ST. LOUIS MERCHANTS' EXCHANGE, Dec. 20.—Wheat had a sharp setback today, credited to export situation largely but there was report of a million bushels being taken by foreigner on the decline. Liverpool wheat closed 20 to 2 1/2 lower. Corn here also was lower.

Opening fractionally lower. May wheat ranged down 1 1/2 before rebounding. Winter wheat off over cent early and Liverpool in one cable came 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 lower. May wheat was a shade lower early. May wheat opened at $1.27 1/2 and May corn $1.00.

Scant export business and report of enlarged private crop and acreage estimates were reported wheat market duller. Local wheat receipts, which were 41,800 bushels, compared with 51,200 a week ago and 134,400 a year ago, included 9 cars local and 24 through. Corn receipts, which were 28,400 bushels, compared with 28,800 a week ago and 102,500 a year ago, included 20 cars local and one through. WHEAT FUTURE LOWEST SINCE MIDDLE NOVEMBER

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Dec. 20.—Big bids to wheat values today tumbled the market from its highest level since Nov. 15, and to about 17¢ off from recent top figures. Announcement that the board had rejected the purchase of 100,000 bushels of North American wheat to be shipped overseas caused only a slight rise. Previous to the announcement of this export business no exports of consequence had been noted since the fall of 1928.

After dropping of a maximum of 3¢ under yesterday's finish wheat today closed unsteady at 51¢ to 51 1/2¢ a bushel. Corn closed 1/2¢ to 1/4¢ down. Oats varying from 1/4¢ decline to a shade advance and provisions unchanged to a setback of 20¢.

With export demand weaker, general bearish sentiment prevailed, and there were heavy holdings to order to stop losses. Oats, 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ down, wheat later continuing to fall. Corn, oats and provisions were relatively steady, with corn starting 1/4¢ off to 1/2¢ on and subsiding by holding near to the initial range.

Downturn in wheat values counteracted by scantiness of export business and by increased private domestic crop estimates as well as by talk of enlarged domestic wheat acreage, carried the price of Chicago December delivery much under the Federal Farm Board's Chicago loan basis of $1.15 a bushel. Prices at Kansas City and Minneapolis were also beneath the board's announced today's break in price was especially influenced by reports current that in spite of reported adverse harvest returns in Argentina, European importers were not buying except in desultory fashion.

On the downward swing of wheat prices, however, Washington message quoting President League of the Federal Farm Board as saying that representatives of the organization are now abroad to pressure markets attracted a good deal of attention and to some buying. Advances from various points were also at hand indicating a better demand from domestic mills.

CHAPTER 25 JOBLESS AGAIN.

TO Lewis's letter, Christine replied: "Ah, you are good! I wish I could love you as you deserve. We made a mistake—but it is very unfair that you alone should have to pay for it. No, my dear, I cannot accept financial aid from you. I have landed a job and shall soon be on my feet again. You must not give me another thought. I have taken too much of your time and consideration already."

On her first day at her new job, she saw Mr. Ashby.

"Well, I see you got around Suzanne all right," he said laughing. "But remember what I told you. She is the carnis of her department."

She soon learned that Miss Perkins was possessed of a strong, personal jealousy which extended beyond her aversion to professional rivalry. She liked to be the center of the social life of the office. From her comfortably-cushioned chair behind the best desk in the office, situated in the most desirable corner, she would graciously receive such of her admirers, both male and female, who were able to match a few minutes for a chat with the queen. She liked to have them around her, especially the men.

She was a tall, big-boned woman with reddish hair and peculiar light gray-green eyes. Without being at all pretty, she had style and a flair for selecting and wearing clothes. Before she had been there very long Christine learned through office gossip that Miss Perkins was time to her and said: "Jolly. I find that you are quite unsatisfactory, Mrs. Elanion. I am forced to discontinue your services at the end of the week."

On the following Saturday, Christine, for the last time, rolled down the top of her desk in the office, slipped on her wrap and hat, and walked out into the street.

The spring dusk was descending; the street lamps showed mistily through the soft haze of the twilight.

She was jobless, and only her weak salary stood between her and destitution. She had been too proud to question Miss Perkins' dismissal. There was no one to whom she could appeal, since Mr. Ashby was away on a business trip. It rather amused Christine to know that Miss Perkins had had the grace to leave the office much earlier than her wont, and so escape the regretful goodbyes of the staff to Christine.

But it was Suzanne Perkins' action which had hurt her more than she could say. She, too, felt a desire to hurt someone. It was only when she had arrived home and had gathered her children into her arms that she felt cleansed of the bad impulses that had held her in their grip for a time. Looking into their flower-like faces, she was ashamed.

Junior, in particular, she held close against her breast. He was her favorite. She worshipped him. Little Louise, combining shyness with a strange self-sufficiency, seemed not to need her, or, if she ever. Her boy had a weak heart, the physician said. He must have the best of care.

Christine was almost on the point of writing to Lewis Hayes—the husband who was not her husband—and asking him to help her in this unenviable crisis, but her pride held her back.

Luck favored her the following Monday. She obtained a job as a saleswoman in one of the little specialty shops in the "Fifties" where she had gone occasionally to find material for her fashion sketches. The wage was a mere pittance, but she felt that it would not be long before she would be able to find work on the staff of some magazine.

Somehow, misfortune could not kill her feeling that she had the ability to write. It was late in June, and she was barely earning a living for herself and the children, when she managed to obtain a job on the staff of a theatrical magazine.

Quite innocently and unwarily, she plunged into a new life which very nearly accomplished her ruin. (To Be Continued.)

Went About Buying Up Competitors Quietly and Paid in Stock of Combine.

By JOHN K. WINKLER.

CHAPTER V.

IL had become big business by the time those avaricious and ambitious young Aladdins, Rockefeller and Flagler, really began to rub their enormous lamps and evoke the spirit of combination. Stability had slowly been established in the oil regions. Necessary man power was released by the final battle of the Civil War. The great oil fields had been found for themselves. The great oil fields had proved practical and had shown their way to the mountains of the West. The great oil fields had shown their way to the mountains of the West. The great oil fields had shown their way to the mountains of the West.

Three powerful railroad systems—Pennsylvania, New York Central and Erie—had penetrated the heart of the oil regions and were in a position to control the oil-carrying trade.

Col. Thomas A. Scott, popularly designated "the man who owns Pennsylvania," was one of the great oil men. Those fascinating oil men, Gould and Fish, were working with the Erie as a partner with her latest favorite, Iron-ore-hauling Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt, his pleasant son, William H. Vanderbilt, and the latter's son-in-law, Horace F. Mark, were the Central's betmen.

Working constantly in both Rockefeller and Flagler at this time was an idea of fusion and merger. These perfectly matched partners were microscopically examining the methods by which the Western Union Telegraph Co. was organized and by which Commodore Vanderbilt was converting his railroads into an imposing system. John D. holds that the real trusts were the Western Union and the New York Central.

Nevertheless, he and Flagler were surely not far behind. By the close of 1880, Rockefeller, Andrews and Flagler had outstripped all competition in Cleveland. Other oil men in the Ohio city had received from their freight at the same time from the oil regions and were standing with R. A. & F. It was a wise choice. Cleveland had a refining capacity of about 11,000 barrels a day. Rockefeller and his partners controlled 1300 barrels a day. They had bought several rival plants, scrapped one or two, and owned others.

As though the little fellow on my conscience, he was buying his plant and advising him to go back to baking.

Another small plant absorbed in these developing days was conducted by a German baker to whom Flagler had once sold grain. The baker, a fat, nervous little man, was no more qualified to refine oil than Jack Dempsey to discuss relativity with Einstein.

"John," said Flagler, "I have a little fellow on my conscience. He's buying his plant and advising him to go back to baking."

THE plant was purchased. The German came to Flagler for advice. "Wait a bit, Johann," said Flagler. "Mr. Rockefeller and I are going to form a stock corporation. If you think we are trustworthy, we'll give you half the amount in cash; the rest you can take in our stock."

Meanwhile, the rotund little baker, later to become wealthy from this investment, was put to work as "superintendent of barrels." It was his duty to see that the oil shipped to Rockefeller, Andrews and Flagler had already been "dried out" in the woods so that the sap wouldn't show on the right side. A saving of one-third in weight of the wood that went into R. A. & F.'s barrels was a big economy!

The stock corporation Flagler had in mind was the Standard Oil Company. The name sprang from a desire to manufacture a "standard" grade of oil.

The company came into being in 1870. Flagler drew up the papers. The incorporators were: John D. Rockefeller, Samuel Andrews, Henry M. Flagler, Stephen V. Harkness and William Rockefeller. The capital stock was $1,000,000, partitioned into shares of $100 each. The purpose of the body corporate was the "manufacture of petroleum" and "the sale of petroleum and its products."

THEIR Own Agent. Sent, Jolly William Rockefeller had been sent to New York by brother John as expert and commission agent of Rockefeller, Andrews & Flagler. He had set up his offices at 140 Pearl Street. William was handling those who had led into a day that were covering in over the Central eye, and arranging for their diffusion over the East and in Europe.

Further step in one of John D.'s most pregnant business principles, the little middle man, "For a profit nobody." If John D. had to sell out commissions, he'd keep them in the family!

WHEN then, was the situation in 1870; the Standard Oil Co. of Cleveland was the largest individual refiner in the country. The previous year had been a disastrous one for the oil business. A fall in the price of oil had led to a fall in the price of oil. A fall in the price of oil had led to a fall in the price of oil.

33 HE STARTLED THE WORLD WITH OIL CONTROL

By JOHN K. WINKLER.

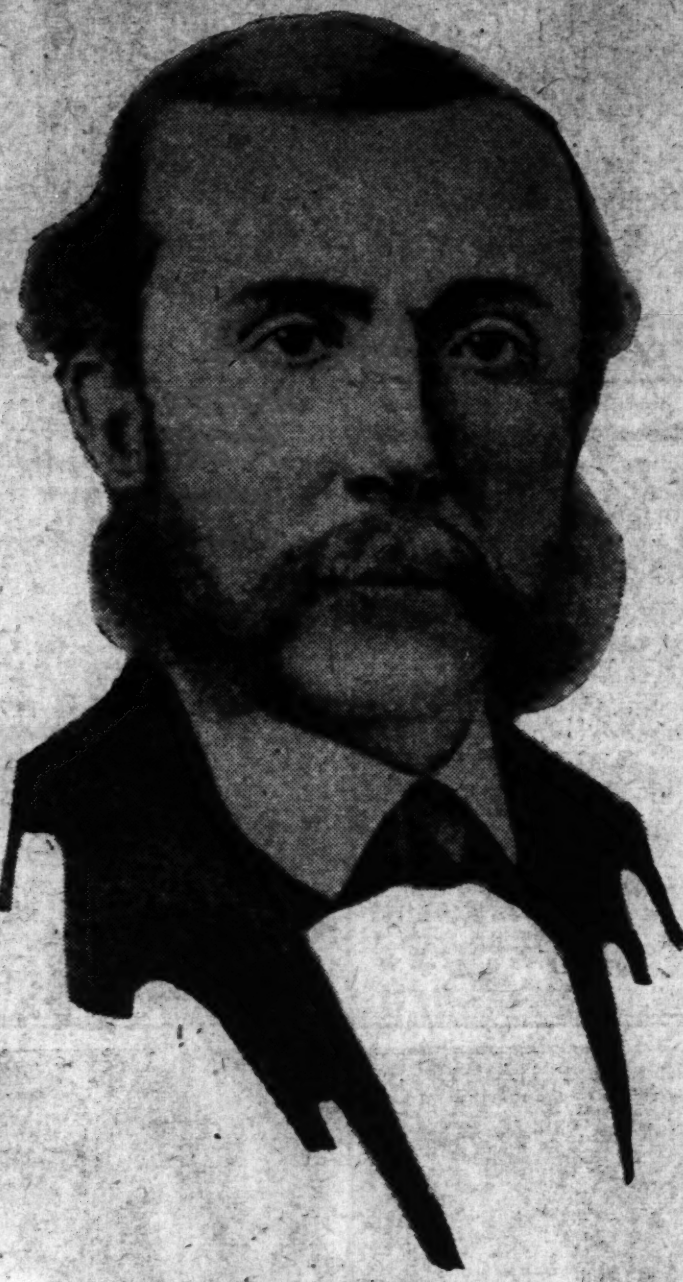

CHAPTER V.

It had become big business by the time those ambitious young Aladdins, Rockefeller and Flagler, really began to rub their kerosene lamps and evoke the spirit of combination.

Stability had slowly been established in the oil regions. Necessary man power was released by the final bugle of the Civil War.

Then, too, we have the new Pocket Kodak Junior in three lovely colors, blue, brown, green, as well as black, with handy cases to match. Come in and look them over.

When Hair Was Plentiful

traffic. The earth was oil conscious. But refining capacity was running far ahead of market demand.

As though to atone for ancient negligence, Nature was pouring out a huge stream of oil. Prices of refined were falling. Plants had multiplied. Profits were slipping away. The oil industry was a madhouse. John D. and his associates were puzzled. Some sort of control, of stabilization, was necessary? What to do?

It was a plan that has been known to veteran oil men for 55 years as the South (or Southern) Improvement Co.

The plan originated with certain refiners in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

The organizers met secretly in Philadelphia during the late fall of 1871 and invited Rockefeller and Flagler to join in a discussion of plans for "stabilizing" oil. It was proposed and agreed that the refining interests represented force the railroads to negotiate exclusive contracts, providing special privileges for transportation; rebates running to 50 per cent, daily examination of railroad shipments.

Also—and this is the remarkable part—what excess other oil men paid, over and above the rate allowed the South Improvement refiners, was to be paid by the railroads themselves.

Outsmarted. Why such hard-headed men as W. H. Vanderbilt, Jay Gould and Tom Scott went into the arrangement is a mystery. But they did.

There must have been a deal of persuasive power in Rockefeller and his associates.

"I told Billy not to have anything to do with that scheme," said old Commodore Vanderbilt, wagging his head sadly.

"They were smart men, smarter than I," admitted old Billy, wryly. "The contracts with the railroads were signed, amid great secrecy, in January, 1872."

Under the South Improvement contracts the rate on crude from the Oil Regions to New York was set at $2.50 per barrel. Rockefeller and his associates were to be blessed with a rebate of $1.00 on this amount and also were to be paid an additional $1.00—the seductive "drawback"—on each barrel of crude shipped by independent refiners.

A moment's consideration will show that this arrangement made competition not only difficult but impossible. The harder a competitor worked and the more oil he shipped, the greater the receipts of John D. and the latter able was the latter to undersell his rival.

John D. was in the enviable position of the man who makes money not only from his own efforts, but from those of his competitors. A full month before the Oil Regions learned of the contracts, John D. began making personal calls—just little neighborly visits—

reals. This was one-fifth of the entire refining capacity of the United States—greater than all the New York refineries, greater than the Oil Regions. Truly, the Boy of Ledger A had gone far.

MEANWHILE what of those stealthy South Improvement Co. contracts with Messrs. Gould, Scott and Vanderbilt? They could not, of course, be concealed long. On the morning of Feb. 26, 1872, the men of the Oil Regions and independent refiners in the large centers learned, with amazement, of the new differential scale of freight rates.

The stunning revelation launched what the press of the period christened, "The Oil War of 1872." The campaign was short, snappy and, for the moment, decisive. There were mass meetings, parades, boycotts. The Creek men organized a Petroleum Producers' Union and pledged that they would not sell one drop of oil to any man or firm affiliated with the South Improvement Co. The newspapers lashed the scheme. The State Legislatures of Ohio and Pennsylvania introduced antitrust clauses into their Constitutions.

Up and down the Creek floated banners: "Down With the Conspirator!" "No Compromise!" "Don't Give Up the Ship!" Mobes of infuriated oil men paraded the streets.

Investigation. A congressional committee took a hand, summoned Watson and Warden, and denounced the South Improvement scheme as a steal and a conspiracy.

A black list was spread broadcast, giving the following refiners as directors of the South Improvement. It was Rockefeller's first bath in antagonistic ink:

P. H. Watson, president S. I. Co. Charles Lockhart, W. F. Logan, O. F. Waring, J. A. Bostwick, W. G. Warden, John Rockefeller.

Amass Stone. The railroads took panic over the public outcry and on March 26, 1872, signed an agreement with the oil producers abolishing the discriminatory rebate.

THE Petroleum Producers' Union brought the railroads to quick surrender, principally because of vitriolic support from refiners in New York and the oil regions. The metropolitan refiners were led by H. H. Rogers of Charles Pratt & Co. He and Rockefeller met first during this "Oil War of 1872."

It is difficult to believe that there was any particular warmth of personality contact between the two, but each recognized in the other a strong man. Soon, very soon, they were to join in a business alliance that was to last during the remainder of Rogers' life.

Another who fought South Improvement bitterly and capably was John D. Archibald. He was an independent Creek refiner, an active, swaggering young man. Later, Archibald became one of Rockefeller's right bows in the Standard Oil.

Came Out on Top. Rockefeller and the Standard Oil Co. of Cleveland emerged from the fallen frame of the South Improvement scheme the only material winners. John D. and those who had linked their destinies with him were not merely rich. They were wealthy in a sense of which American in the seventies could scarcely conceive.

However, there was one obstacle. Throughout the entire oil regions, Rockefeller and his mates were now set down as sharpers. Therefore Standard Oil and suspicion were synonymous terms. Mutual distrust was to grow and widen.

But the young man of Cleveland was a business genius, quite determined upon conquering the world and elevating himself to a position of dazzling eminence. He was very well satisfied with progress. His dreams went far. He would seek world dominion in his chosen field. He sensed opportunity for enormous wealth.

And there was no limit, apparently, to this 21-year-old genius of oil.

Buxton & Skinner
306 N. Fourth St. New Orleans

Cranberry and Raisin Marmalade
One quart cranberries, one cup raisins, one cup sugar, one cup water. Four water over the cranberries. Cover the saucepan and bring to a boil quickly. Mash with a wooden masher. Boil for three minutes and then mash through a strainer. Add sugar and chopped raisins and boil slowly for 30 minutes, stirring frequently. A lovely little winter relish.

Glass Measuring Cups
The new glass measuring cups, having all the ounces and divisions marked plainly on the glass, as in a medicine glass, are a delightful addition to the kitchen equipment. Liquids are no longer hard to measure, as they can be seen right through the glass. Two of these would make a nice gift at Christmas time to the person to whom you just give a remembrance.

Beet and Fish Salad
Boil four medium-sized beets until tender and then remove centers. Chill on the ice and chop the beets, centers finely. Flake three-quarters cup of leftover white fish, add the chopped beet, one-half cup minced celery, one teaspoon minced parsley, one chopped hard-boiled egg and sufficient mayonnaise to blend. Fill the prepared beets, place in lettuce cups and garnish with additional mayonnaise and capers.

Daily Story
FOR CHILDREN

By Mary Graham Bonner

Ponies.

"HALL we stay around here for a while?" the Little Black Clock suggested, and both Peggy and John agreed that it would be fun.

Certainly it was a strange looking world in these days, long ago. The people looked so differently, the land was so wild and there was such lots and lots of space.

"You've just seen the first team," the Little Black Clock began. "Yes, I certainly turned the time back a great distance!"

"This is the very beginning of travel, but even before this cart was made the people could ride, and I've engaged a couple of ponies

so you can have a ride while I wait for you.

"My legs are so short that I wouldn't be so very good at riding." Right away two ponies were brought by a person who looked like a picture the children had seen of a very early earth dweller—and that was just what he was. They got on the ponies and oh, how the ponies went! The wind blew about their faces. The ponies took them over rough, rough fields, through half-made paths through the woods, and finally came back to where the Little Black Clock sat and waited for them.

"I don't know what I think," John told the Little Black Clock. "I love riding a pony. I adore a trail, I think a plane is so exciting, and I did love seeing that open-air."

"It's a good thing I asked you to come on adventures with me," the Little Black Clock grinned. "You want all the different kinds of travel—the old and the new. We'll have some more traveling adventures, but now I have other plans."

FIFTEEN OUTSTANDING FEATURES

- 1 SCREEN-GRID—CERTAINLY! By using three screen-grid tubes you are able to get maximum selectivity with perfect stability without forcing the tubes.
- 2 POWER DETECTION—It is found in Courier radios as a matter of course. The detector stage is of an improved design which gives to Courier radio, linear or non-distorting detection.
- 3 NEW DESIGN RADIO FREQUENCY TRANSFORMERS—The Courier uses recently invented, low-loss, uniform gain transformers, so designed as to give maximum selectivity without any sacrifice of tone quality.
- 4 THOROUGHLY MODERN AUDIO—The Courier uses a combination resistance and transformer coupled audio system. It lets high and low tones through at their proper values.
- 5 LIGHT SOCKET OPERATION—Courier radios operate entirely from a single light socket. The one connection operates both radio and speaker.
- 6 SINGLE DIAL TUNING—There is only one tuning dial on a Courier—there are no trimmers. It is as simple to tune a Courier as it is to set a watch. A child can do it. The dial is illuminated and calibrated in kilocycles.
- 7 DISTANCE—SELECTIVITY—Distance stations come in so that one can hear and enjoy the music. Powerful local stations do not bother the man who wants distance.
- 8 COMPLETE SHIELDING—The Courier chassis is completely shielded. You know what this means in radio, especially if you are in a city where there are a number of powerful local stations.
- 9 BALL-BEARING CONDENSERS—The Courier is tuned by four-gang, ball-bearing condensers of the most improved design. They are built for long wear and positive action.
- 10 DIE-CAST CONSTRUCTION—This means an unusually strong, sturdy receiver, one that will stand considerable rough handling without the slightest danger of anything going wrong.
- 11 NINE TUBES—The Courier uses nine tubes: Three 254 screen-grid tubes, one 227 detector, one 227 in first audio stage, two 245's in push-pull, one 200 rectifier and one CX-100 VOL. EQ.
- 12 HANDSOME CABINET—Highly polished, beautifully finished, sliding doors. A cabinet that will harmonize with any home furnishings.
- 13 TUNING—Distance or local is sharp, but not so sharp as to interfere with side-band overtones.
- 14 COURIER CHASSIS—A triumph of modern radio design and construction.
- 15 COURIER'S are fully guaranteed by the manufacturer to be just as stated in this ad. New, wonderful in performance and perfect in every respect.

All-Purpose Ensemble

BECAUSE it is practical, Paton's intermediate ensemble is destined to become very popular. It consists of a sleeveless dinner dress with moderately low neck topped by a semi-formal afternoon coat. Such a costume made of tulle, georgette or crepe remains in fashion for the coming season. It may be worn to tea with a flatter ing dress hat, or to dinner, and later the coat and hat may be removed for dancing. In this decidedly active and swift-moving life this type of ensemble fills a definite need.

One charming Paton model comprises a black faille coat in which

Let "RADIO'S RICHEST VOICE" say
Merry Christmas

Spartan . . . "Radio's Richest Voice", should be in every home this Christmas.

WHEN your gift to your family is music, only the finest will do. The thin line that separates mere good reception from music that inspires and thrills, may seem vague to you now, but hear a Spartan and the difference becomes amazing. The first velvet notes will linger in your memory. They will tell you that here... in radio... is the heart and soul of the artist

as you feel it when you hear him in person. Here, truly, is FACE-TO-FACE REALISM.
Just a few steps from you, a Spartan dealer invites you to

CAUTION

Before you invest in any radio, invest in the stability and history of its manufacturer. There will be radio "orphans" without service and without replacement parts. Spence has been in business 31 years and is proud of its "name-plate"

Manufactured by THE SPARKS-WITHINGTON CO. (Incorporated)

Anticipate something marvelously different... an influence you will want to place before your children. To choose a radio without this "something" is to miss what has made music the universal expression of human emotion.

There is still time for Christmas delivery. A wide range of models and prices fits Sparta to every income. A deferred payment plan is available.

Heavy Week-End Covering by "Bear" Traders Brings About Advances of 1 to 10 Points—All Not Held.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—Heavy week-end covering by "bear" traders brought about a sharp rally of 10 points in today's brief session of the market, although the gains were not fully maintained.

Publication of the official summary of the Interstate Commerce Commission's revised consolidation plan probably accelerated the late demand for the railroad shares, although many bankers and railroad executives believe that the final shaping of the country's railroads will differ widely from the plan proposed.

Union Pacific led the rally with a gain of 6 points, while Santa Fe, Great Northern, and Northern Railway, which had been in the lead, all closed with net advances of 1 point or more.

One of the most interesting developments of the day's news was an announcement of an increase in the price of cotton to 15 cents per pound, effective January 1.

Today's rally was regarded as a natural correction of a temporary over-advance in the market, which had been in the lead since yesterday's rally.
